

Time it was,
And what a time it was,
It was . . .
A time of innocence,
A time of confidences,
Long ago . . . it must be . . .
I have a photograph,
Preserve your memories —
They're all that's left you.

— Paul Simon

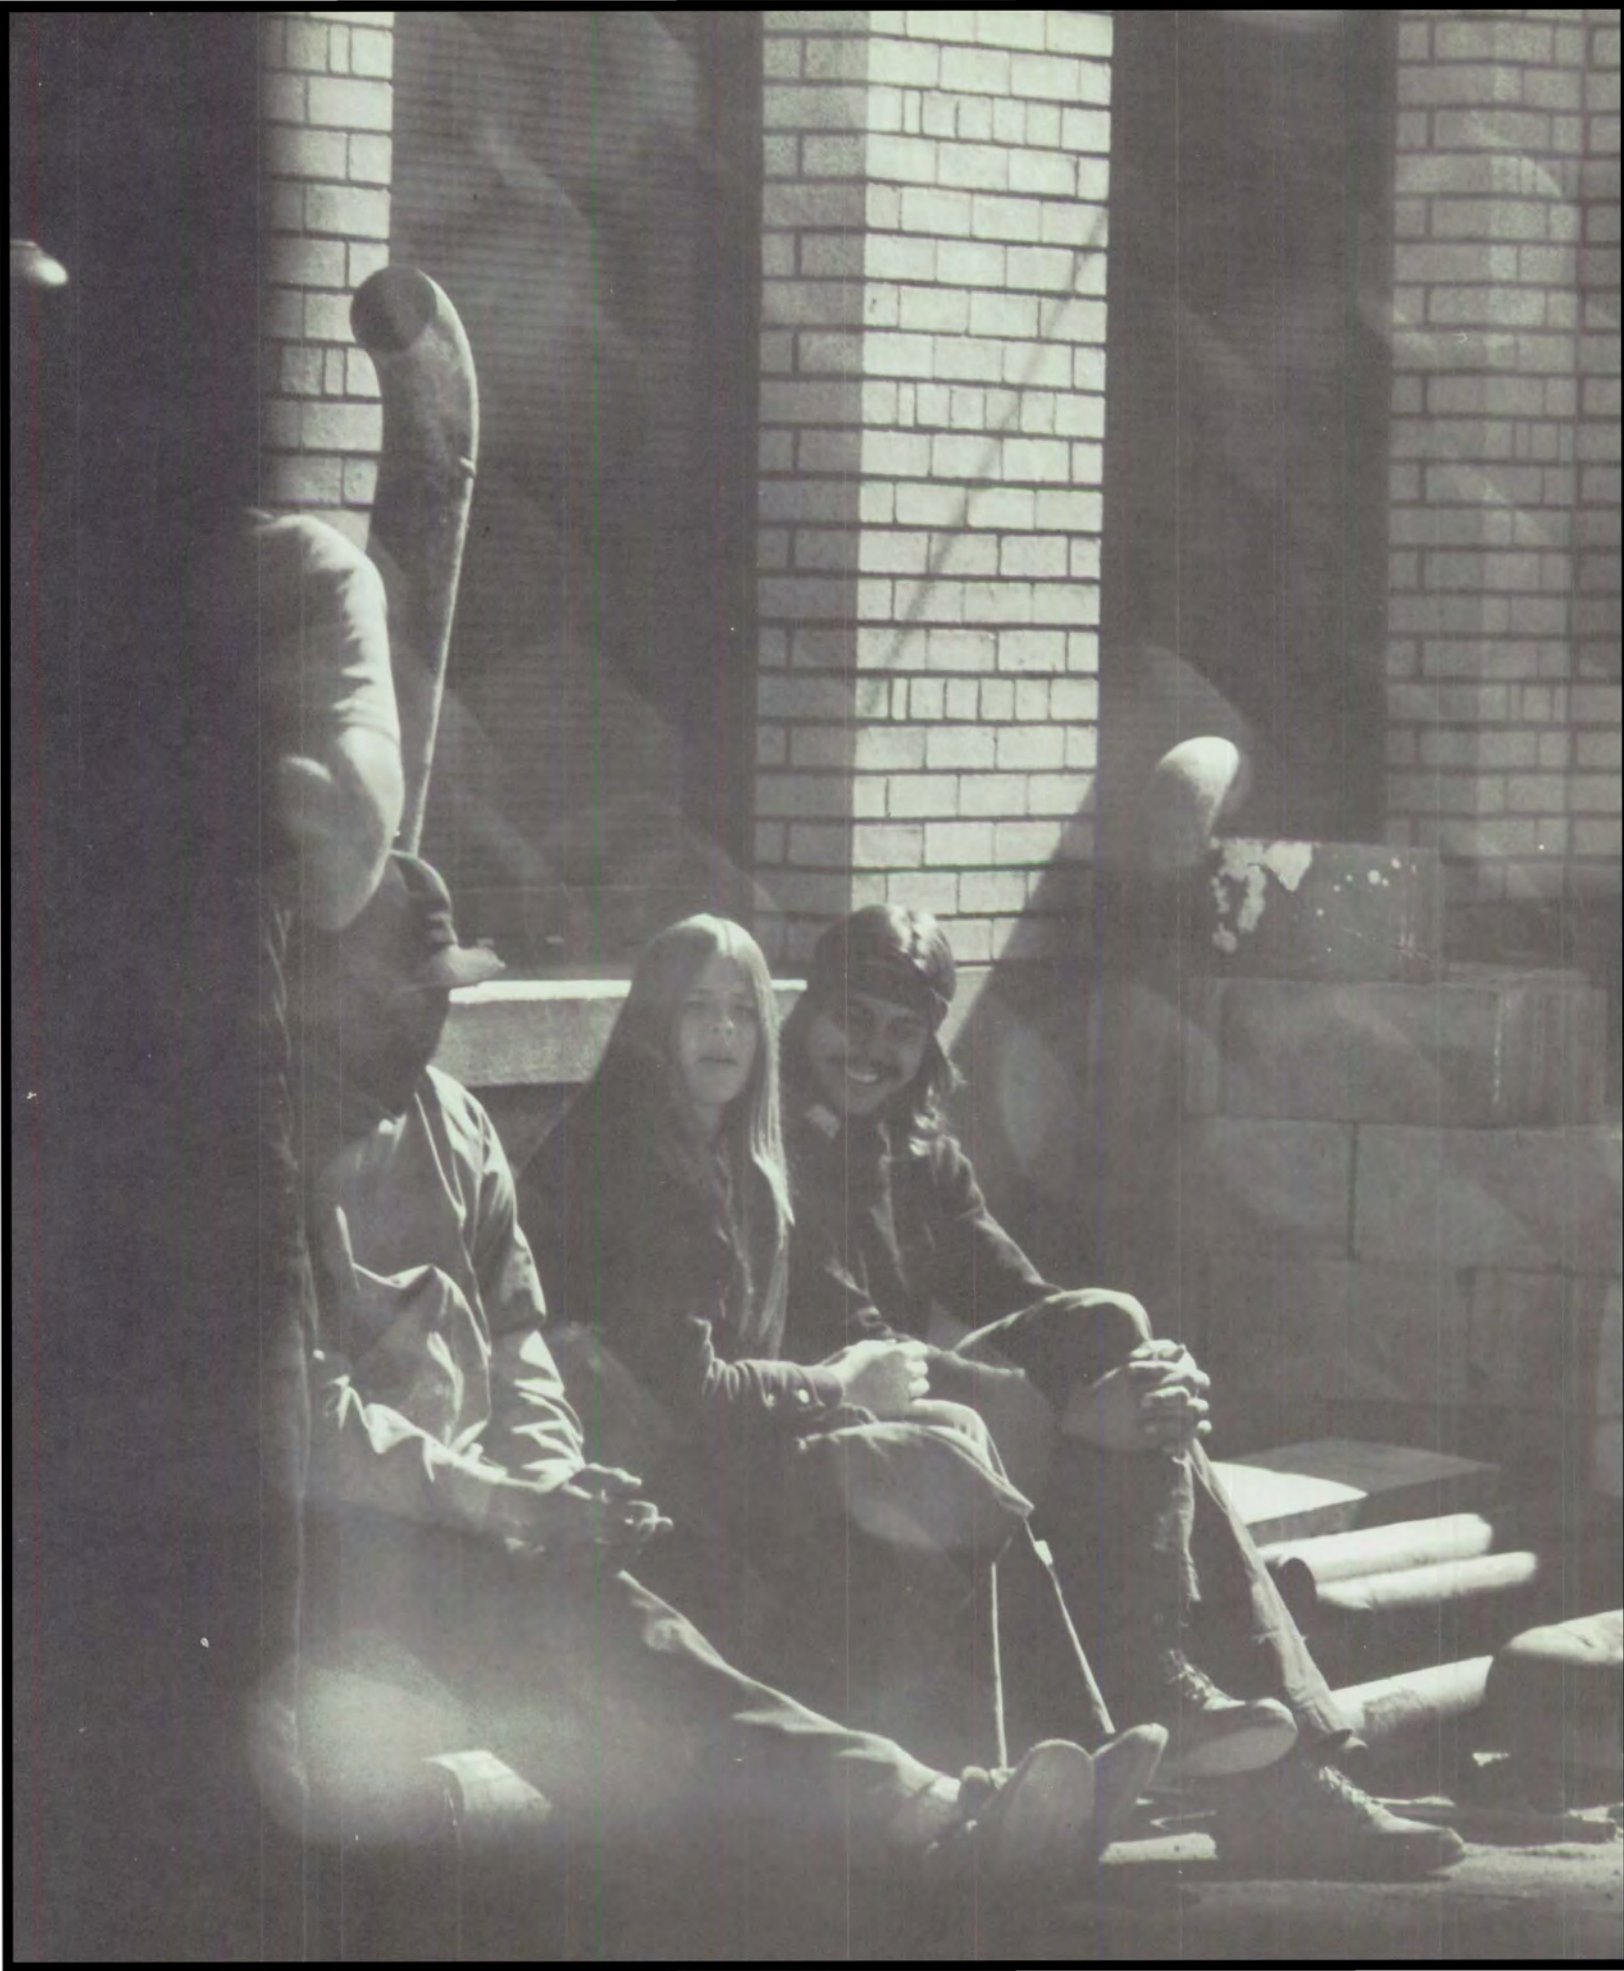

We must now see the world as it is,
People, times, and changes,
Moving, passing, hiding
The very dreams that possessed our young minds.

What we have known to be . . .

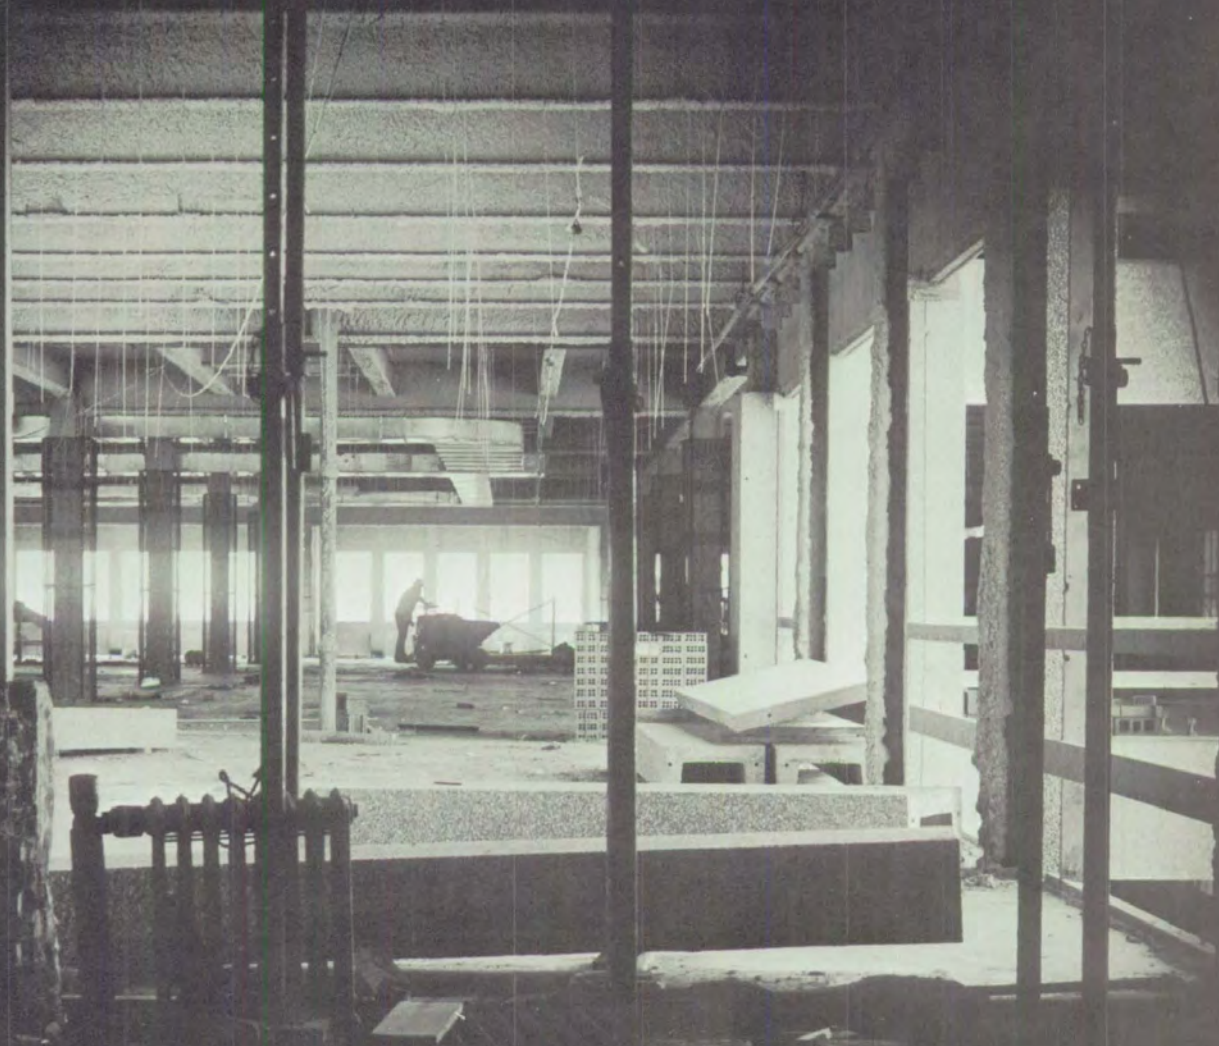

is now the foundation for the future.

But then that's a kind of construction, a kind of change that happens to everything.

Scenes of my young years will warm in my mind
vision of shadows
that shine.

'Til one day I returned and found that they were the victims of the binds
of changes.

— Phil Ochs

Faculty 7

We never have enough friends and we never have enough learning, but we gain a little more of each every day.
It's because we're able to bite off and digest a slightly larger portion of the outside world than we thought we were able to yesterday.

One can say he belongs
But it is not until he gives of himself,
    at what he does best —
That he can truly feel the same air of commitment.

One can say he belongs
But it is not until he gives of himself,
at what he does best —
That he can truly feel the
same air of commitment.

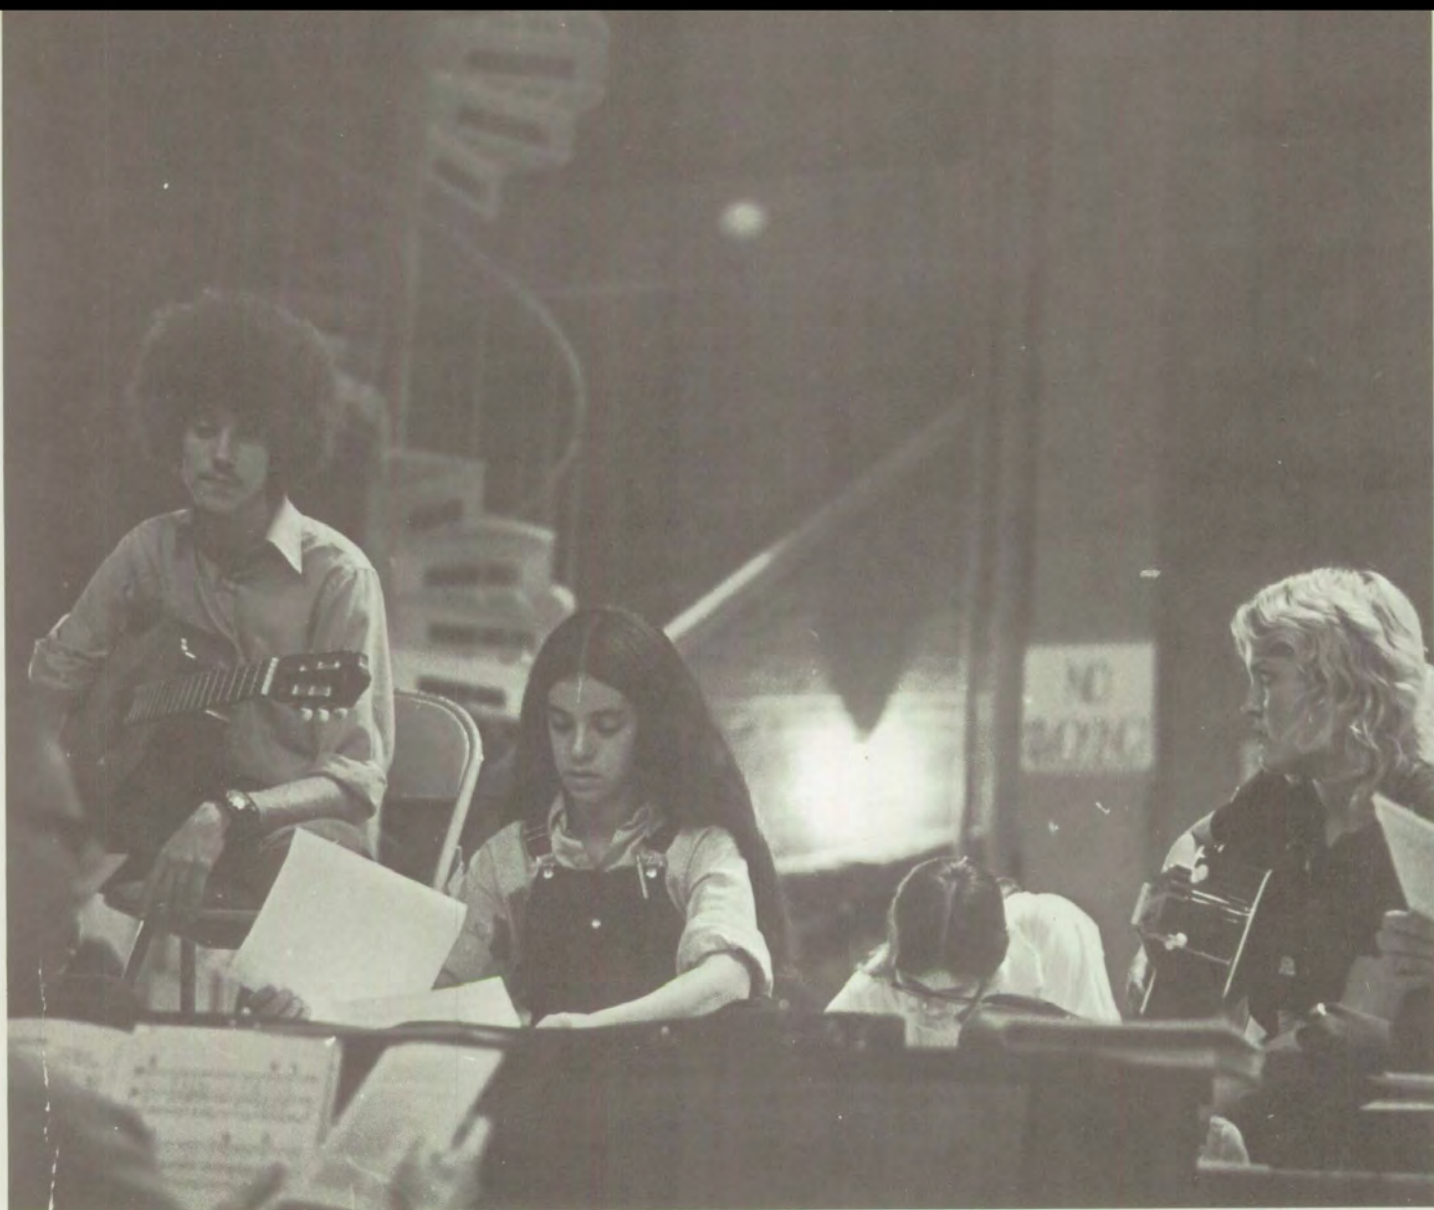

We walk the same halls,
We tread the same stairs,
We read the same books,
We use the same chairs.
We've found that our lives are too much the same,
and so . . .

Courage,
daring,
pure reason,
strength, virtue,
wisdom . . .
In heraldry it signifies
knightly power,
In the Southern Sky
it's called Monoceros,
In China it's called Ch'i-lia or Piao,
In art it's identified with the Chimera,
It's the Christian symbol
of monastic life,
or the crest of the kings of Israel.
In Ethiopia it's called Arucharis,
In Mt. Lebanon
it's called the Unicorn.

'Neath cedars stately, midst hills so bold, Stands our Mt. Lebanon, realm of Blue and Gold,
 Radiant with splendor, valor, virtue, and truth,
 Moulder of our destiny, guardian of our youth.
 Ever our praises shall ring, Alma Mater, for

Yes, we do experience change, and what a change it is.

Growth or destruction, take your pick — it's up to you.

Only the individual can determine what he's going to do with his life.

Only the individual can decide how he's going to utilize his environment.

We see the change and we acknowledge its inevitability.

EMERGENCY DOOR

That's all that can be expected.

Life
