The average lebo student

by student survey

PHOTO
NOT AVAILABLE

We asked around. "Have you seen the average Lebo student?" We polled the entire band. We sneaked in to meetings of S.A.D.D., Environmental Club, A.F.S., and the Science club. We ventured into the computer room. People dodged us, shield away. They Responded only with blank faces.

We drilled kids sitting in front of lockers. We asked, "Are you an average student?" They did volunteer work, rang bells at their church, had their own lawn mowing business, and baby-sat regularly. "Where are the couch potatoes?" we demanded. The newspapers say that students are apathetic, and S.A.T. scores are dropping, but Mt. Lebanon's S.A.T. scores have gone up several years in a row.

Our reporters journeyed to the faculty lounge, the teachers' carrels, and even Mr. Graf's office. There too, we met blank faces.

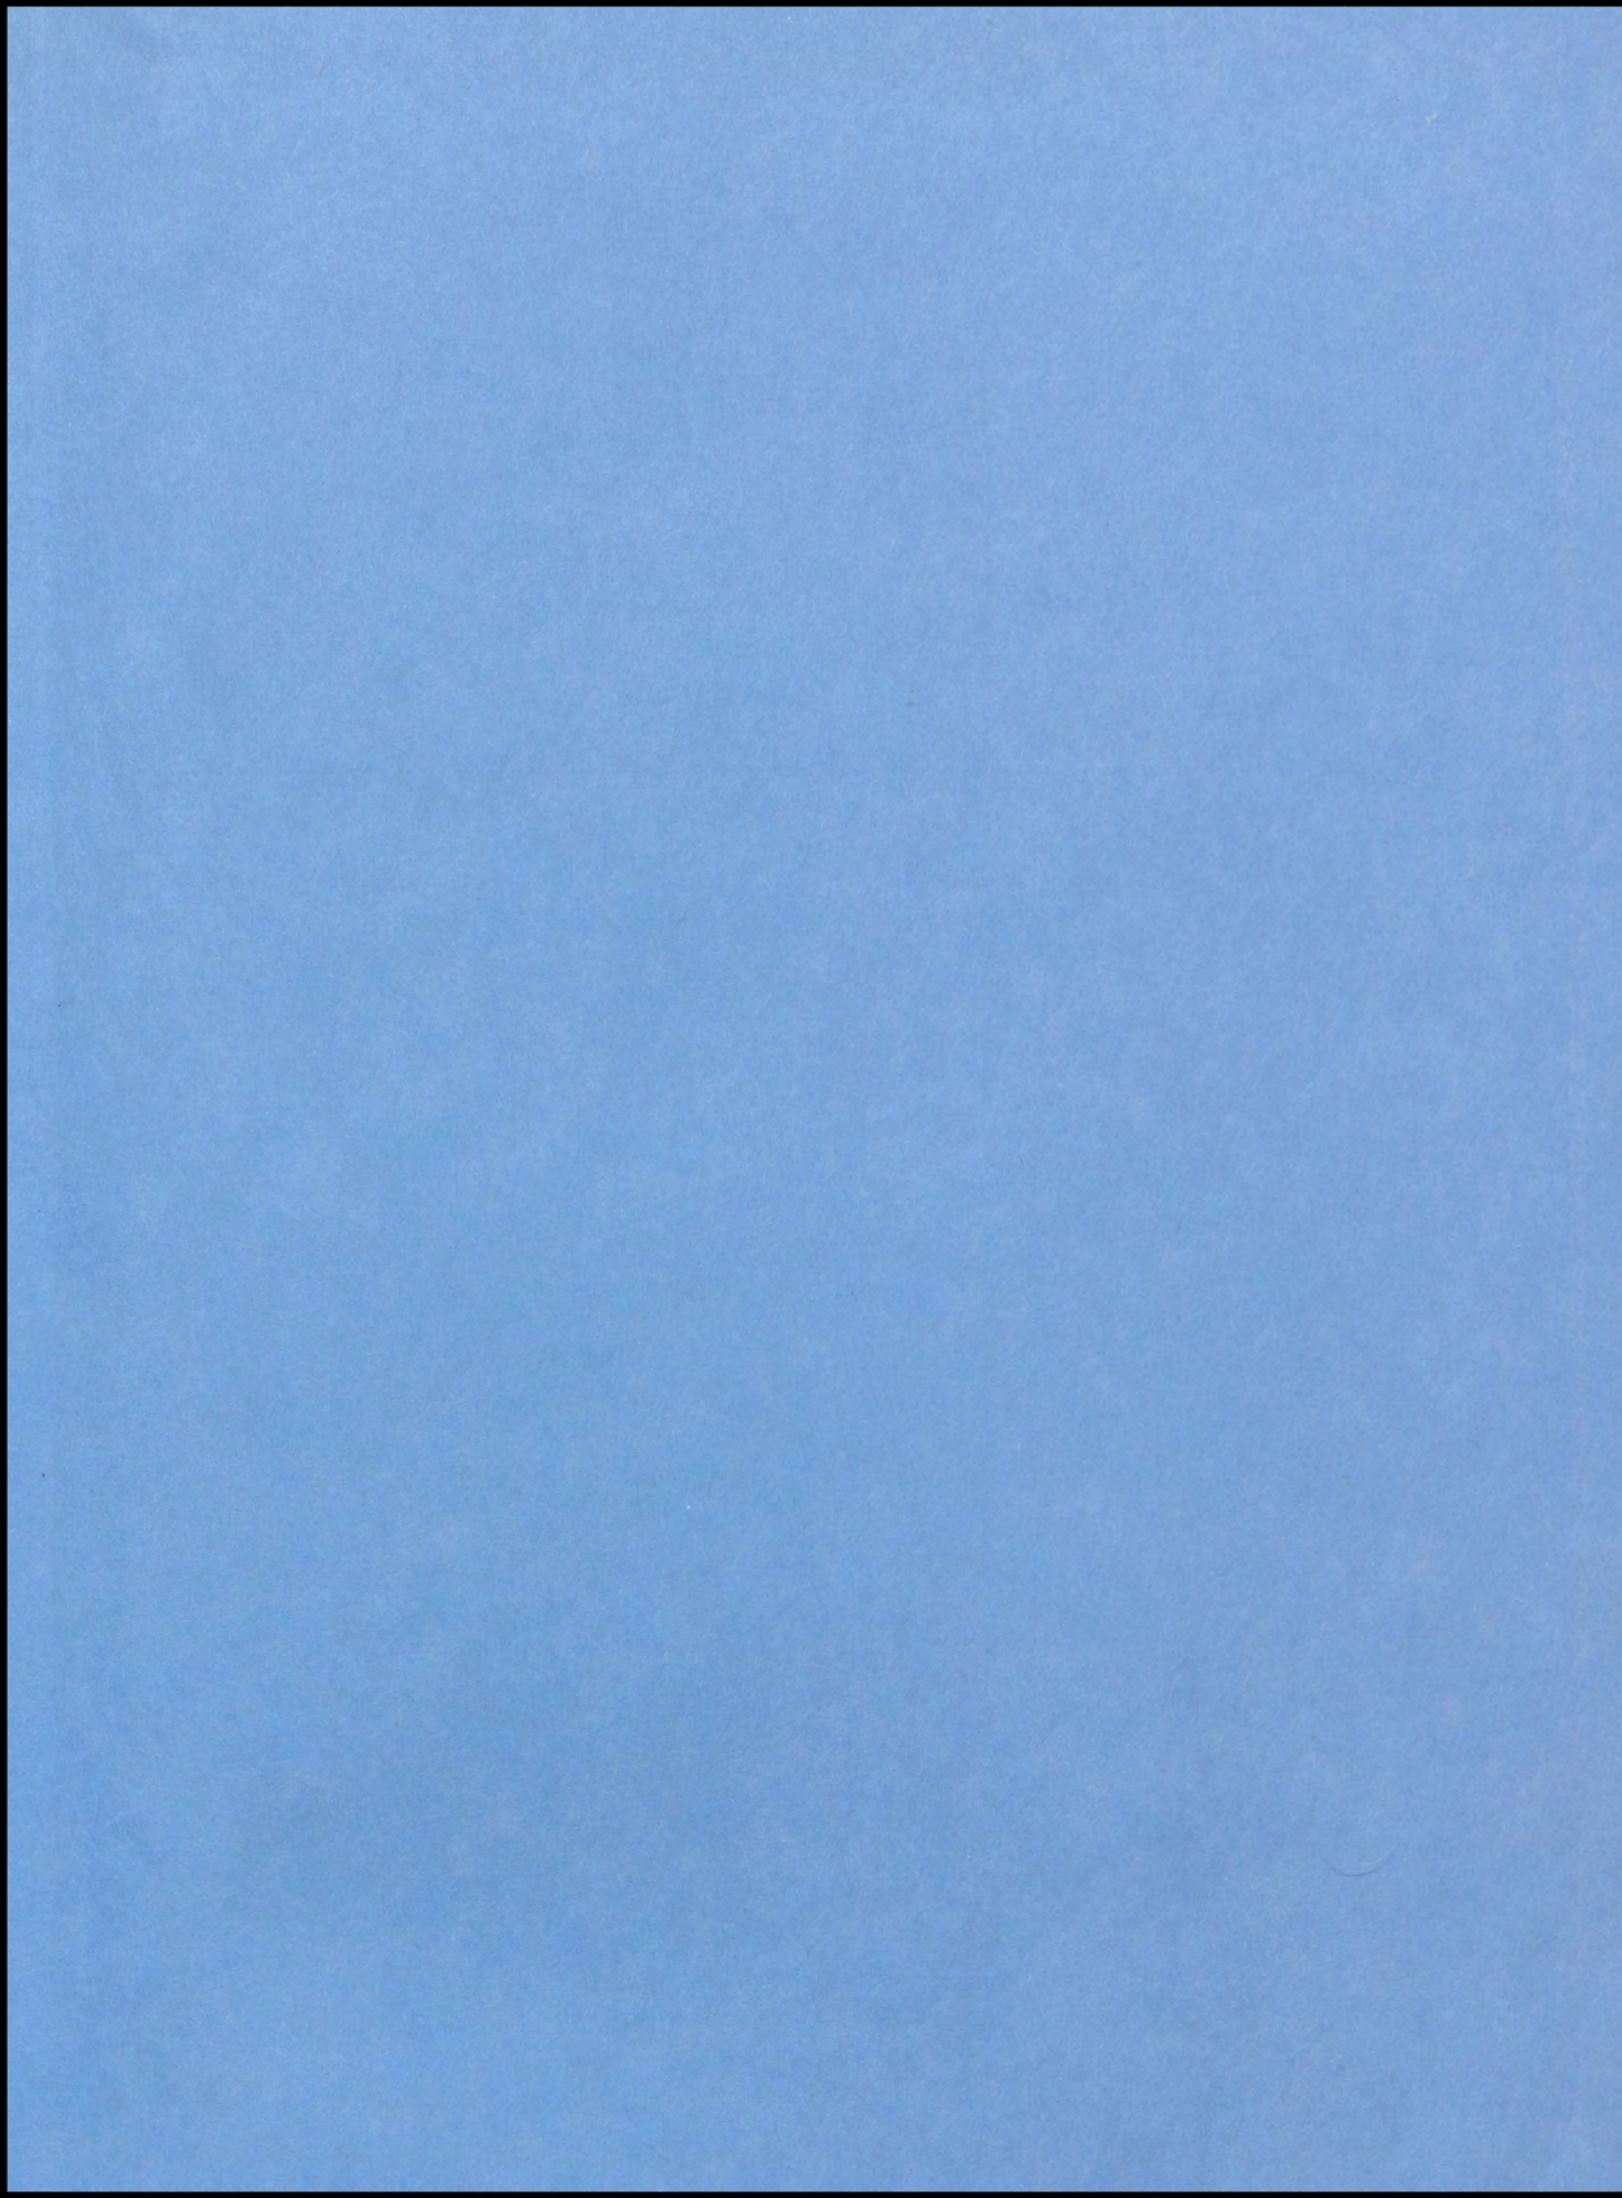

Obviously, the average student does not exist at Mt. Lebanon.

Seniors . . .

- Are almost out of here.
- The ones giving superior looks.
- The ones stealing chairs at lunch.
- Have ego problems.
- Casually stroll to class, ignoring the late bell.
- Take the interesting electives they always wanted to take.
- Are never in school.
- Write college essays.
- Experience the "college cram."
- Worry about their future.
- Suffer from "senioritis."
- Have the most creative reasons for being tardy.
- Have perfected the art of cutting in the lunchline.
- standing in the parking lot looking for gym class.

Jill Jardine grins into her locker, anticipating the rigorous day ahead.

Ahkil, Derek, and Amy pack up their bags and head for the door with smiles.

Dave finishes the last of his homework during lunch.

Underclassmen are . . .

- lost.
- crying.
- in a hurry.
- carrying the most books.
- walking on the left side of the hall.
- going through the left door.
- running to class.
- constantly consulting their schedules.
- pushing in their chairs.
- taking numerous "what you should be when you grow up" tests.
- standing in the parking lot looking for gym class.
- looking forward to their senior year.
- the only students awake in study hall.
- next year's upperclassmen

Dana, Katy, and Kate flirt with the photographer.

Mr. McCoy, hypnotized by the camera.

Lebo students give a rousing version of the Pledge of Allegiance.

Mr. Auth models the wierdest in tie fashions.

Mr. Findley engrossed in his work.

Faculty Members Always . . .

- have a cup of coffee.
- perpetually lecture.
- enjoy a night of correcting essays.
- think their class is the most important.
- give too much work.
- push TV carts down the middle of the hall.
- have chalk dust on their clothes.
- hope they'll get a student teacher this year.
- tell you to get a tray at lunch.
- look forward to summer vacations.
- eat better lunches.

People
Seniors - 20
Underclass - 44
Faculty - 71

Why Go Back? . . . . .

- Autumn relationship meltdown.

- Bonding with Mr. Snooze Button.

- Harvesting a whole new crop of substitute teachers.

- Only 271 more days until summer.

- Finding that special someone with whom you can have that open, intense, mature, and completely imaginary relationship.

- Those devil-may-care hall monitors.

- Participating in the chess club's wickedly demoralizing hazing practices.

- Chance Donnie Wahlberg will do community service at your school.

- Life-without-bells, too darn carefree.

- Grilling new exchange student for dirty words in native tongue.

Seventeen magazine-1991

Melissa Frankel is surprised by the photographer.

Looking like models, this group assembles at the Station Square dock for the Senior Boat Ride.

Foreign exchange students captivated by American culture.

A True Friend Is . . .

- a real reason to go back to school.

- a shoulder to cry on.

- someone who listens to you whine at 3 o'clock in the morning.

- someone to eat with and not feel guilty.

- someone to toss a football with.

- someone you can count on to tell the truth.

- someone who will make you ask that girl out.

- someone who gets you a prom date.

- someone who lets you wear their clothes.

- someone who will pick you up in the pouring rain when everyone else drives by.

- someone who tries to brighten your day with an obnoxious laugh or a huge smile.

- someone who points out the cellulite on your ex-boyfriend's girlfriend.

Nickie Funt and Molly Birmingham ignore the late bell and chat in the hall.

Absorbed in her music, this student grabs the wrong books out of her locker.

Activities

Students who attend Mt. Lebanon High School have a world of opportunities open to them. Clubs and organizations of every nature are available.

Every year a special day called Activities Day is organized. All the groups assemble in Center Court, while other students browse through signing up for the groups that interest them. Ranging from the Art Club to Student United Nations, our students can broadcast live every morning or paint the scenery for one of the many theatre productions.

Mt. Lebanon, nationally recognized for excellence in education, offers a variety of interesting clubs and organizations that give our 1400 students an opportunity to express themselves.

Relaxed under a tree, Lori Rood and Nicole Sama talk about their day at Mt. Lebanon.

Caught trading homework, these two students look guilty for the camera.

Sports Quotes . . .

"Many people ask me if I run Cross Country
And I respond with a proud yes.

Then these same people always seem to say to me
That they could never run Cross Country.
And I respond with the truth

...
No, you probably couldn't run Cross Country
And especially at Mt. Lebanon because it's for
The Mean
The Quick
And The Mentally Sick."
- Jefferson Paul Iovino

"Football is a team sport that helps a player to be a better being. Attending every practice requires discipline, and as one develops it, it will help him in the future. It also teaches the importance of team work. A good play only occurs when each player is doing his own duty. When all obstacles are passed, football gives the greatest feeling to the player."

- Rick Yokota

Girls' volleyball discuss their game plan.

After school football practice gets rough as Mike Kerestes tackles Mark Meury, and Matt Orendorff looks on.

The girls' cross country team gets wild with their stretching.

Football players take their positions on the turf.

Ways To Spot An Athlete:

- The jock strut
- Getting out of school early
- Letter jackets
- Turf on their shoes
- A cheerleader on each arm
- Tie on game day
- Living in their gym clothes
- Wearing the latest tennis shoes
- School spirit
- Smell of chlorine
- Posters of Andre Agassi in their lockers
- Turf burns
- Gives play by play of last night's game during class
- Team clothes on game day

Mt. Lebanon's brutal offense meets with a bang.

The girls' cross country team warms up, preparing to run circles around the competition.

Head coach Paul Kmec displays the kind of talent Lebo is famous for.

"We are confident in our team since we work together so that the singles and doubles are equally ready for the toughest of competition."

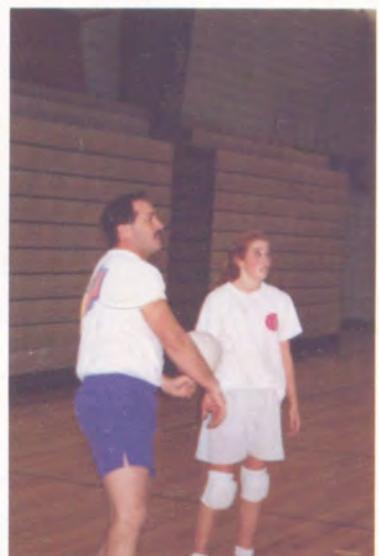

- Courtney Katila

"Hard work, preparation, mental and physical toughness, good coaching, and a little bit of talent are, in my opinion, the keys to being successful in athletics."

- Jay Adams

"Competition is one of the great aspects of swimming. Some times you do well and feel great, but everyone loses once in a while. Swimming helps me manage my time and organize things."

- Natalie Budner

Mike Schahill shows Katie Bleumling how to serve with perfection.

Andy and Carrie gossip in math.

"Hey, look guys, there's a camera taking our picture!" exclaim Megan, Diana, and Molly.

Katie is all smiles between classes.

"Don't worry, Joel! What's the worst that can happen?" asks John Kane.

"We're seniors- need we say more?" announce Jen Atiken and Karen Schoener.

Araan Goldstein relaxes during her free time.

"How's it going?", remarks Dave Humphreys.

Homework can be fun. (really)

I'm in the wrong class- I hate when this happens!

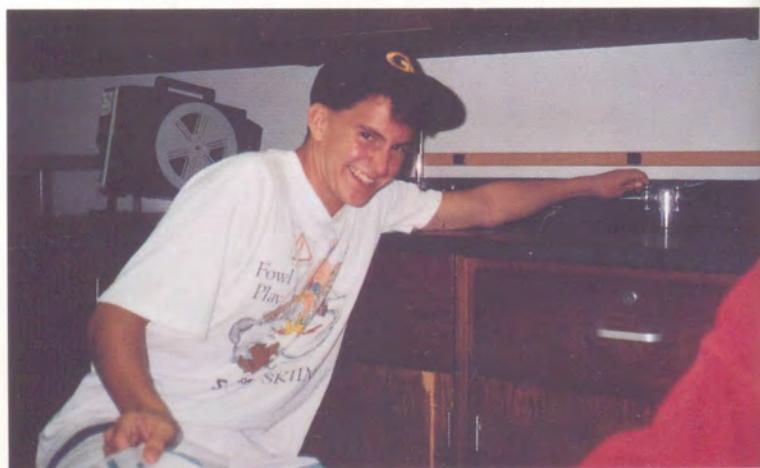

Oh, now I get the picture.

"Hi guys!", exclaims Stephanie.

Did you know . . . The actual origin of Friday the thirteenth appears to be a tale in Norse mythology. It was believed that every Friday Frigga, the goddess of love and fertility, convened a meeting with eleven other witches, plus the devil, a gathering of thirteen, and plotted ill turns of fate for the coming week. - Extraordinary Origins of Everyday Things

Did you know . . . The history of the hot dog began 3,500 years ago with the Babylonians, who stuffed animal intestines with spiced meats. Several civilizations adopted, modified, or independently created the dish; the Greeks called it orya, the Romans salsus, the origin of our word "sausage." -Extraordinary Origins of Everyday Things

Nature's first green is gold,
Her hardest hue to hold.
Her early leaf's a flower;
But only so an hour.
Then leaf subsides to leaf.
So Eden sank to grief,
So dawn goes down to day.
Nothing gold can stay.

"HOW TO ACT IF YOU DO NOT WANT TO BE CALLED ON:"

* Make yourself invisible. Align your head and shoulders with those of a student directly between the teacher and you. If the teacher moves, adjust alignment.

* Make yourself inconspicuous. To accomplish this, assume a casual pose. Concentrate on fitting the top of the pen into the bottom; perhaps even hum to yourself. Or engage in nonchalant play with a pencil: hold it upright, point against paper, and slide fingers from eraser to tip. Turn pencil over; slide from tip to eraser. Turn and slide. Turn and slide.

If the teacher calls on you anyway, do not respond immediately in the hope that a kid with the answer will just yell it out. If no one rescues you and the question calls for a yes or no response, pick one. Otherwise, give a joke answer. The class will laugh. The teacher will say that it won't be so funny when you get your report card."

Lebo students dance the night away

The hustle and bustle of the Homecoming activities all started on Friday October 11. Before the football game against Uniontown High School, this year's court, nominated by the senior class, took the field in anticipation of the long awaited decision. The court consisted of Annie Coll, Aimee Kane, Farrell Leo, Becky West, Jay Adams, Sean McCollum, Matt Orendorff, Jes Stroup, and King and Queen Frank Tinne-meyer and Kate Sadowski. After the decorated car procession and the football team's victory, students planned for the October 26 Homecoming Dance. This was the first year in many that the dance was held in Center Court. Thanks to the help of several dedicated decorators, Center Court was beautifully transformed, and students were able to dance the night away.

On October 31, 1991 Mt. Lebanon held its first pep rally of the year. Focusing primarily on fall sports, the objective was to get Lebo students psyched for the ensuing football game against U.S.C. Annie Coll, a senior Cheerleader, served as emcee for the event, while some of the entertainment included performances by both the Cheerleaders and the Rockettes. The highlight of this year's pep rally was the presentation of Mt. Lebanon's Banner of Excellence by Mr. Otto Graf, school principal. All in all, Mt. Lebanon's 1991 pep rally was a huge success.

Mt. Lebanon's Senior Recognition Week was celebrated by all

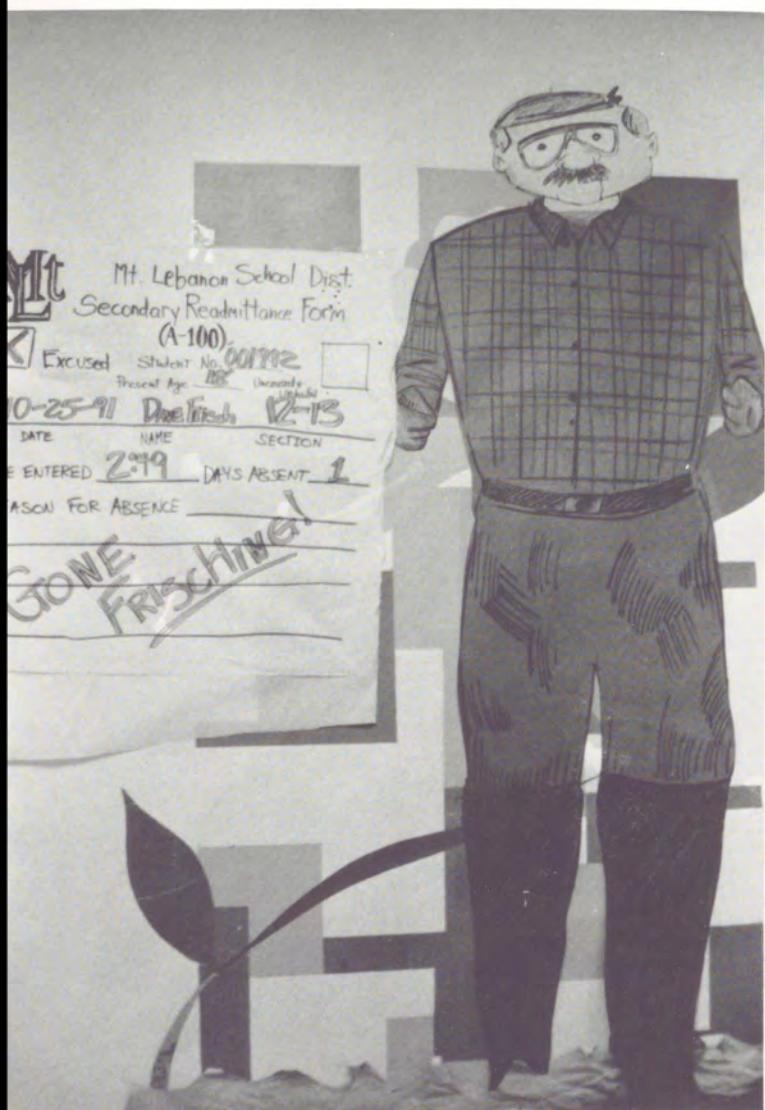

Balloons and streamers decorate winning homeroom 12-11.

Mt. Lebanon's Senior Recognition Week kicked off on October 21, 1991 with the traditional decorating of homerooms. Many different ideas and themes emerged, showing the magnificent talent of our students. Two senior homerooms were chosen as winners this year, both 12-11 for their balloon theme, and 12-13 for their "Gone Frisching" idea. The decorations stayed up all week giving joy to anybody who walked through the halls.

Helping to decorate are Roger Arnold, Tracey Barnes, Rebecca Barton, and Toki Barron.

The theme of 12-13's winning decorations was "Gone Frisching."

Holiday Show proceeds aid worthy causes

The thirteenth annual Holiday Show, held on December 19, 1991 continued its tradition of success. The show featured 26 acts this year, and a plethora of talent. Interspersed throughout the evening were different musical acts such as: The Holiday House Band, "More Than Words", The Silent Singers, A Piano Piece, "Imagine", Where is Jess?, Czardas, The Lougoons, The Juanabees, and The Vincent Song. Another musical act, Faces, served as a tribute to the graduating class of 1992. Other talent included a philosophical skit entitled "Liquid Plato". A crowd favorite was the act thought to be cancelled, the K.G.B. dancers. Streaming in from the doors at the top of the auditorium, the audience got a bird's eye view of Mt. Lebanon football players dressed for the ballet. The show's finale was an international highlight as the faculty, cast, and foreign exchange students sang "We are the World". This year's proceeds were donated to the Joseph B. Price Memorial Scholarship Fund, The Caring Project, The Light of Life Mission, Pleasant Valley Shelter, Whale's Tale, Outreach South, The Osteogenesis Imperfection Foundation, Mom's House, and a trust fund for leukemia patients. Surely, no one will forget this momentous evening or the friendships involved that will hopefully last a lifetime.

Taurus

April 21-May 21

Emphasize your voice this summer. Volunteer at a hospital or home for the elderly and bring some joy to the ears of those less fortunate by singing or reading. Your warm and earthy sense of humor and soft heart will be appreciated.

Gemini

May 22-June 21

Summer is the perfect time to visit a foreign country. Expand your wide variety of interests even further by a hands on experience of another culture. Your changeable personality, eager nature, and outgoing friendliness will put you at ease in the different environment, not to mention your ability to adapt to new ideas and situations. Bon voyage!

Cancer

June 22-July 23

Come out of your shell and show the world your true self. Overcome shyness by getting involved in group activities. Use that hidden imagination of yours to express emotions through poetry or drawings. Think about working with kids during the summer. Try to stop by the library to read about a subject that sparks an interest.

Leo

July 24-August 23

Summer is the time for romance. Go out on a limb to tell that special someone how much you really care. Try an original approach like skywriting, or a pizza adorned with a heart shaped out of pepperoni. Don't hesitate to show your affectionate side. Don't be authoritative and if you expect respect, you must give in order to receive.

Aries

March 21-April 20

Let your fondness of travel overcome you this summer. Get a job at a summer camp for extra cash. Your natural born leadership skills and athletic abilities are perfect for this job. Think about starting a new project.

Pisces

February 20-
March 20

Work your vivid imagination to the limit. Compose literature, like song lyrics or short stories, to pass the time. Let your feelings of elation and depression reflect in these compositions. Don't be afraid to reveal moodiness and great emotions.

MEGAN SEMBER

Aquarius

January 21-
February 19

Get involved with an organization that will enable you to fight for your concern about equality and brotherhood. Try to overcome your habit to be an observer rather than a participant. Since you like to do your own thing, organize a sit-in that reflects your desire to be harmless in actions and your gentle soul.

Capricorn

December 22-
January 20

Set a goal to overcome this summer. You're good at meeting challenges and you can rise above obstacles. Think about getting a job for the summer. Since you're eager to learn and ambitious to rise in the world, this is a great way to start.

Sagittarius

November 23-
December 21

Take some time out to enjoy the freedom of the summer and don't be afraid to splurge on yourself for that new pair of shades. Get the gang together for fun in the sun! Organize a day at South Park, you work best when among friends. Or, act on instinct for an out of the blue experience.

Scorpio

October 24-
November 22

Put that bright and original idea to work! Your firm beliefs in this idea will guarantee success if you don't let your emotions get the better of you. Don't be a couch potato, put your strength and energy towards useful and creative directions. Be intense and dynamic, not pushy and aggressive in order to achieve your goal.

"All right, Today is Friday!", cheers Liz.

Composed of six intellectually challenging games, Academic Games is a fabulous learning opportunity. Students compete on the regional, state and national levels against schools from states as far away as Florida and Michigan. Mt. Lebanon's squads have enjoyed a stunning run of success over the past six years, culminating in the junior team's national championship last April at the national tournament in Rock Eagle, Georgia.

Student Council organizes activities

Throughout the year, Executive Council has tried hard to make the school year more interesting.

We met with administrators, teachers and parents and the results are obvious. We now have TV monitors in the cafeterias, The Devil's Den, a juke box, and we are trying to get tables and umbrellas for Center Court.

Our goal has been to involve more students in planning activities and special projects.

Thanks to the efforts of our student body, staff and community, the 1991-92 school year has been excellent.

Sixteen of Mt. Lebanon's seniors are National Merit Scholarship semifinalists this year. Twenty-one additional seniors were commended in this program. Mt. Lebanon's number of semifinalists is the highest of any public or private school in western Pennsylvania. Only three other districts in the state had more. These students represent the top half of one percent of each state's graduating seniors. As a result of their achievement, these students had an opportunity to earn scholarships in the final level of the competition. We would all like to congratulate each student for his outstanding performance.

The Concert Choir consists of 50 members who really enjoy choral singing. The choir presented two traditional concerts in the Winter and in the Spring. The second semester found the choir working on new music, to be performed at the Spring Concert in May. The choir performed at both the Galleria and the Allegheny County Court House in December, bringing some holiday cheer to the public. We would like to thank our student teachers from this semester along with Miss Brooks for their hard work and patience.

Rockettes and Silks add smiling faces to the show

Through all the hardships, the endless practice, the pouring rain, the muddy fields, and the freezing temperatures, we always managed to smile through it all. There is a feeling you get every time you stand on the field before an audience. You can't wipe the smile off because the pride just bursts through you. It felt so good, standing on the field reassured us. When we were good, we were great!!

Although at times I've wanted to pull my hair out, I am very proud to have been one of the leaders of the 91-92 Rockettes. Our confidence and discipline grew both individually and as a group. The support for the team was tremendous and neverending.

Cheerleaders compete in Jacksonville, FL

Beginning in June and continuing throughout May, the cheerleaders have had one of longest yet most productive seasons. We started in June by attending Universal Cheerleaders of America's program at Slippery Rock University. There we spent four days learning new cheers, sidelines and dances. Due to our outstanding performance in camp competition, we earned the title of Summer Cheer Champions. We continued our season by conditioning for two weeks prior to school in August. During this time, we perfected our routines for the ensuing football and soccer seasons. We also took part in a regional competition at Ross Park Mall. While cheering for spectacular football and soccer seasons, we contributed to school events such as the bonfire and pep rally. A highlight of our season was qualifying for nationals by earning an 87.5 percent at a regional competition at Shaler High School. Our work continued throughout the exciting basketball and wrestling seasons. In preparation for national competition at Jacksonville, Florida, we raised funds by holding a cheerleading clinic, and oldies dance, hoagie and candy bar sales, and bake sales. Finally, on March 22, 1992, we competed in Jacksonville and gained a national ranking. We extend a special thanks to Mrs. Gruden, a wonderful coach and mother, and to all the dedicated varsity cheerleaders. We also thank the J.V. and freshmen squads and their coaches, Mrs. Hannan and Mrs. Reese, for all of their love and support.

Dance Company performs among college dancers

The Mt. Lebanon High School Dance Company consists of eighteen girls who are selected by audition every spring. In order to achieve this objective, the Company choreographs its own ballet, lyrical, modern, jazz, and tap dances. The dancers rehearse for hours to perform in two daytime and the Fine Arts Festival. This year, the Company also performed at a dance convention held at Seven Springs. In the midst of many college companies, Mt. Lebanon's Dance Company was one of only two high schools invited to display their talents. A special thanks to all the Dance Company members and Mrs. Kapron, who made our senior year in Company the best ever. We hope you have enjoyed our performances.

Outdoors Club is one with nature

H. Miller, M. Weigner, J. Denman, G. Penning, B. West

The trips we run go all over PA,
It's quite a miracle we know our way.
The caves are dark, so deep, dark and bare,
What happens outside we have not a care.
The rivers run so swift, wild and very cold
Are we just plain stupid, or are we very bold?
We're crazy enough to sleep in snow,
Why do we do it? -I dunno.
The trails run over hill and over dale,
We hike 'em all until we're pale.
The bikes run fast and the climbing is slow;
Out to the boondocks is where we go.
Whatever we do, we have fun
'cause no one can do it as just one.
Live fast, take chances!

Perhaps the most common misconception of the Science Club is that everyone is doing Earth-shattering research. In reality, anyone can do a science project on subjects ranging from comparing toothpastes to testing insulation. Because anyone can study his own unique interests, the Science Club has grown from a small organization to a club with approximately forty members. The Science Club has always been successful and in 1991 brought home 18 first place winners at the regional science fair. Much of the credit for the club's success goes to Mrs. Amodie who provides assistance for every member from the planning stages of their project to the final presentation at the science fair. In the end, though, the student controls the direction of his study—designing it, executing it and presenting it. It is this chance for independent study which makes Science Club a unique experience.

A.I.M. members are the doctors of tomorrow

Aspirations in Medicine is a club that is designed to meet the needs of students who are interested in exploring the health care profession. A.I.M.'s activities include speakers, field trips, and shadowing programs. The many speakers are a result of the individual interests of the club members. The club is an excellent opportunity for students who are interested in a field of medicine to examine the different professional fields and all their aspects.

The Mt. Lebanon A.F.S Club plays host to the foreign exchange students who are now staying with Mt. Lebanon families. We plan activities such as parties and outings to allow the exchange students to absorb some American culture, as well as share their cultures with us. The club allows the exchange students to gain some insight about the way the average American teenager interacts in our society compared with his own society. Also, the club provides friends for the students who may have difficulty adjusting to an entirely new culture. The students are never without friends or fun!

Producing the Log is a full-time job. As Co-Editors-in-Chief, our job started in early August, when we picked out a theme and assigned jobs to the editors. This year's theme, "Mt. L Today", required much extra effort from the whole staff. The yearbook is different because we followed a newspaper format in our layouts and design. Choosing this theme required a training meeting with our advisor Ann Funk, and Jostens' representative, Jim Jackson. Through the hard-work and stress, Ann Funk and Jim Jackson provided positive ideas, guidelines, and shoulders to cry on. This year's Log is innovative and original. It is our hope that the students of Mt. Lebanon will appreciate the hard work and dedication that the Log Staff has expended. We would especially like to thank the staff, Ann Funk, and Jim Jackson for their many hours of work and support. Our pride is evident in the superior quality of our work.

In past years, when walking past room 522, we thought it was merely a small study hall. By mid-May, we expected the yearbooks to magically appear in homeroom. After receiving it, all we said and heard were complaints and criticisms. After becoming part of the Log staff this year, we found that thinking of a theme, putting our ideas together, and completing a section, takes a lot of dedication, cooperation, hard work, long hours, responsibility, and punctuality. None of us had any idea of the work involved behind the scenes. Each member is in charge of his given jobs. As Activities Editors, we were in charge of this entire section. On top of our other school-work and other activities, we had to make time to complete 45 pages of this year's fine yearbook. The three of us would like to thank everyone who helped make this section possible. We will always remember the friendships we built, the memories we made, and the great experiences we had. We hope that this year's Log is as meaningful to you as it is to us.

Can you imagine . . .

- tracking down 400 students and demanding a senior picture?
- checking and rechecking the spelling of every senior's name?
- redoing entire yearbook pages because someone decided to turn in his picture late?
- thinking of witty picture captions page after page?
- alphabetizing 400 students' pictures
- tallying piles of surveys?
- proofreading every senior's activity card?

As editors of the senior section, we enjoy it and find the finished product worth all the pain.

Editorials

Before the season began, the expectations of the team were varied. Some believed that senior captains Rob Austin, Deron Black, Joe Pirain and Brian Holzer, with the added return of senior Mike McDonald, would lead this team to a potential WPIAL Championship. Other less optimistic followers believed that the loss of the top four golfers of 1990 would cripple a golf team that only two years ago claimed the WPIAL Championship. However, with the emergence of senior Colin Symons, junior Jeff Potter and junior Steve Vegh, more than adequate replacements seemed to have been found. What became increasingly apparent throughout the season, however, was a trend of inconsistency. A team that was loaded with individual talent could not blend together to destroy inferior teams. Eventhough our talent level was superior, we succumbed to Central Catholic and two times to dreaded Upper St. Clair. Despite an excellent record of thirteen wins and three loses, and placing second in the section to USC, the visions of an undefeated season and a section title were gone. With the season winding down, the team set its sights on the WPIAL Playoffs. In the first round of the playoffs, we once again sunk into the wave of inconsistency and were eliminated from playing in the team championships. In the individual part of the season, Jeff Potter, Mike McDonald and Brian Holzer all played well enough to qualify in the sectional tournament for the area championship. In one of the area championships, Brian Holzer managed to qualify for the WPIAL championship but did not play well enough to advance to the state tournament.

The one word that comes to my mind when I think about the girls' golf team is dedication. This year in particular was a tough year for our up and coming team. With the loss of our coach to illness, having to break in a new coach, and a delayed start in practice, a tough road lay ahead of us. We worked hard and with team support and determination, we completed our season winning three out of eight matches. Not only did we strive as a team, but individually as well. This year our team sent four golfers to WPIAL Individual Sectionals. They were Jennifer Kintz, Mary McGinley, Liz Tranter, and Erin Dickerson. It was a tough day of competition for us, but we all gained new friendship and even got some helpful tips for future matches. However, without the individual efforts of our other team members, we could not have made it through the seasonal matches. I applaud the efforts of everyone on the team. Many personal goals were achieved and although we were not number one, we still had a great time out on the golf course.

Football is a positive aspect of my life. It makes you challenge yourself both physically and mentally. You have to be a true athlete to handle the pressures of football. It is a team oriented sport, with individuals rarely singled out. This gives everyone, starter or bench, a feeling of belonging. Each person participates in the team's victory.

-Brian Portman

We started out our season with fourteen returning starters, and high expectations and goals from last season. Early in nonconference play we beat three tough teams. Then we went on to win our next six conference games but lost a hard one to U.S.C. At the end of the regular season we were 9-1 and looking into the playoffs. By working together and playing hard, we were able to meet our expectations and obtain our goals.

The 1991 girls' volleyball program took a giant step forward this year. As we improved on our 1990 season's 3-12 record, we finished our season mark at 13-3, as well as making the W.P.I.A.L. playoffs, a first in the team's fifteen year history. In the first round of the playoffs, we played sixth ranked Trinity, as we were ranked ninth. We came from behind to beat the Hillers, and moved on into the second round to play the Norwin Knights. Although our season ended with this match, we all felt the satisfaction of making playoffs through our hard work. Highlights of the season included Jackie Grady and Gabe Cook making the Norwin Tournaments All-Tournament team, and Grady and Cook making first team of the All-Section team, while Jen Rump and Julie Stocker made the second team for All-Section. Many thanks to our coaches Lynda and Yoko, who were both new to the Lebo program last year, and the best of luck for the future.

-Julie Stocker

In the past fifteen years, Mt. Lebanon Girls' Volleyball has never progressed into the playoffs. Driven by our history, fabulous coaching skills, and the desire to win, the girls set a new precedent. Teams in the W.P.I.A.L. learned who we were and feared us. With our twelve wins and two losses to end this season, the Lebo girls plowed through the rankings and finished sixth out of approximately 50 teams in the W.P.I.A.L. Entering the second round of playoffs, the girls finally gained the recognition they deserved.

Each girl put forth her all and notwithstanding injuries, each one became a key role to our success. The seniors provided immeasurable experience and leadership abilities while the juniors, with their resounding skills, pushed the team to its physical limits. The sophomores and freshmen not only gained knowledge from the team, but also brought their wicked strength and endurance to the team. They proved to be the brightest future this program has ever seen.

Each member of our team proved to be crucial to our success in 1991. Good luck girls!

The 1991 tennis season was awesome. Several new girls joined the team and each girl contributed to make the year great. Our biggest rival was Upper St. Clair; and during the regular season we won once and lost once, making us co-champions of the section. The loss did not bother us after we crushed them 3-2 in the W.P.I.A.L. finals. While Porter Harris, Kristen Carey, Ting Yu, Courtney Katila, Lori Mannheimer, Allison Flinn and Lauren Diulus battled U.S.C., the rest of us cheered the team to victory. Over all, the season was great; our 18-1 record and our W.P.I.A.L. tennis trophy prove it! We owe a lot of our success to Mr. Stull and Mr. Gefsky, our coaches. They stayed calm and collected on the sidelines offering praise and advice when we needed it.

The 1991 Girls' Varsity Soccer concluded its season with a 22-1 record. With hard work and dedication, we again earned the Section IV title for the third straight year. W.P.I.A.L. playoffs brought our Mt. Lebanon team a first round bye, a 5-1 victory over North Allegheny, and a 4-0 win over Fox Chapel. Going into the Final we knew that Quaker Valley would have to stay defense the entire game and depend on a penalty kick or a shoot-out to win. The rest is "One Moment in Time."

Editorial

The 1991 Girls' Cross Country Team showed a great deal of hardwork and dedication to accomplish their goals this season. The Lady Blue Devils started off in the right direction by placing third at the Tri-State Area Coaches Invitational in early September. Throughout September and October, the team established an impressive 6-1 dual meet record, losing only to Bethel Park. The girls continued their success by placing second at the Northern Invitational and by placing first out of 26 teams at the Malone Invitational in Ohio. The girls ended their season with second place finishes to Bethel Park in both the WPIAL Qualifiers and Finals, and by qualifying for the PIAA State Championships. At the state meet held in Hershey, Pa, the team concluded the season with a strong performance, placing an impressive seventh. The team consisted of only thirteen runners this year, but they made the best of such a small team. They worked hard at practice, improved gradually, and were able to meet their goals. Overall, the team portrayed great spirit and support, and from those many strong friendships developed.

I remember driving along Cedar Boulevard shortly after I began high school and seeing a group of Mt. Lebanon Cross Country runners dashing up a hill. I remember thinking how clueless those guys were. There was no rationale for the sane man to want to cause himself pain. Now, three years later I am one of those psychos, and I am not sure why I do it. For all runners, it is the desire to be one's best, the competition, or the comaraderie, but for many, the endorphins cause the madness. What else could conjure a desire to run every day? Such passion can be one's best buddy or one's greatest challenger, and that is why I love it.

Editorial

The Boys' Basketball Team started out the 91-92 season with an impressive victory at home against Oliver. After losing their next game at Taylor Allderdice, the runnin' Blue Devils ran off four straight wins, including the section 5 opener against Trinity. The next game, against tough section opponent Canon-Mac, ended in a close seven point loss for Mt. Lebo. The annual Mt. Lebanon Holiday Tournament saw the Blue Devils crush Peters Township by over twenty points in the first round. In the championship game, Mt. Lebo was tied with top ranked North Allegheny before losing in the last minute. The Blue Devils easily defeated West Allegheny enroute to a six game winning streak, including an 18 point win over their biggest rival, Upper St. Clair. The team is led by senior starters: Henry Stafford (point guard), Graham Knox (guard-forward), Deron Black (guard), Jarrod Duffy (guard), and sophomore Jim Miller (center). Senior forwards Bill Pascoli, Jay Adams, and juniors Josh Gruden and Scott Marshall come off the bench to provide the added help Mt. Lebanon uses to run the opposing teams out of the gym. Head Coach Black, Assistant Coach Hobaugh, and assistant John Fitsioris guide the team. At this point, the Blue Devils are 12-3 overall, and tied for first place with Canon-Mac in section games. The team is on the way to another section crown and looking forward to advancing far in the W.P.I.A.L. playoffs. The whole team would like to thank the students and fans for their support throughout the season.

The Girls' Basketball Team had high hopes heading into the 1991-1992 season. Because only two players from last year's playoff team graduated, we had a strong nucleus returning. We started the season off strong with two non-section wins. As soon as section play began, however, we received the news that our top scorer, Erin Butcher, was forced to have knee surgery. Other players were then forced to pickup the scoring slack. They were successful due to the reinstatement of senior co-captain Farrell Leo. Other captains include junior Lisa Warno, Senior Julie Stocker, and Butcher. Important sophomores include point guard Amy Barnett; guard Heather Border; guard Christina French; and center Jen Seaver. The up and coming freshmen stars include center Gabe Cook; guard Kelly Cross; and point guard Sara Paonessa. To coaches Ron Bradley, Kate Gannon, Bob Lowe: Many thanks for four years from the class of 1992 and to the younger players, the best of luck in the future.

The Mt. Lebanon High School swim team has achieved much with its limited resources. Lack of depth and proper facilities were not able to stop yet another excellent year. Both teams, male and female faced some difficult defeats and most rewarding victories. Albeit more victories for the girls team and more defeats for the boys team. Through the leadership of our head coach, Bill Conrad, and much help from our team, we pulled off many great swims leading some to W.P.I.A.L.'s and states.

The continuously rebuilding wrestling team made steady progress this year under the leadership of the new head coach Rod Gerhart. The team was led by a strong group of juniors and seniors. The addition of a promising group of sophomores contributed to the team's improvement. Despite again competing in the toughest section in the state, the team stayed competitive with our neighboring rivals. The team has begun the long trip back to success, and next year promises to be even better. We would like to thank our parents and coaches for a great 1991-1992 season.

Editorial

The 1991-92 Mt. Lebanon Blue Devil Varsity hockey team differs from last years' in many ways. We lost our top two scorers, but with an infusion of freshman blood and a more determined work ethic, we have competed with and dominated most of the teams we faced. After a season opening loss to USC, we bounced back to pound Bethel Park, Baldwin, and Norwin. Riding the three-game winning streak, we traveled to Armstrong County, minus Captain Seth Kilzer, to take on undefeated Armstrong Central. In a game full of great plays and bone-crushing hits, we came up short on a controversial penalty shot and lost by that one goal. The positive aspects of our team include the emergence of sophomores Brian Drew, Rob Guillen, and Adam Locasale as team leaders, and the proven play of junior Jeff Potter, who double-shifted as a center and a defenseman in most games. With the loss to Armstrong Central clouding our minds, we dropped a game to Chartiers Valley, but came back to crush Penn Hills and Hempfield. Halfway through the season, the fight for the number one goaltending slot raged, with Dave Filoni and Joel Wandel turning in stellar performances. Freshman Jason Lewis and Jimmy Krieger bolstered a line-up that includes eleven seniors, but unfortunately suffered the loss of all-purpose Matt Matragas to a broken ankle in the pre-season. Even so, this year's squad should improve upon last year's after one round in the playoffs. This year, with Captain Jess Feltz, Mike Campana, Toki Barron, Nate Sommer, Tim O'Reilly, and Andy Wills solidifying the lines, there is a good chance we could go all the way.

What did you say?

We've been caught!

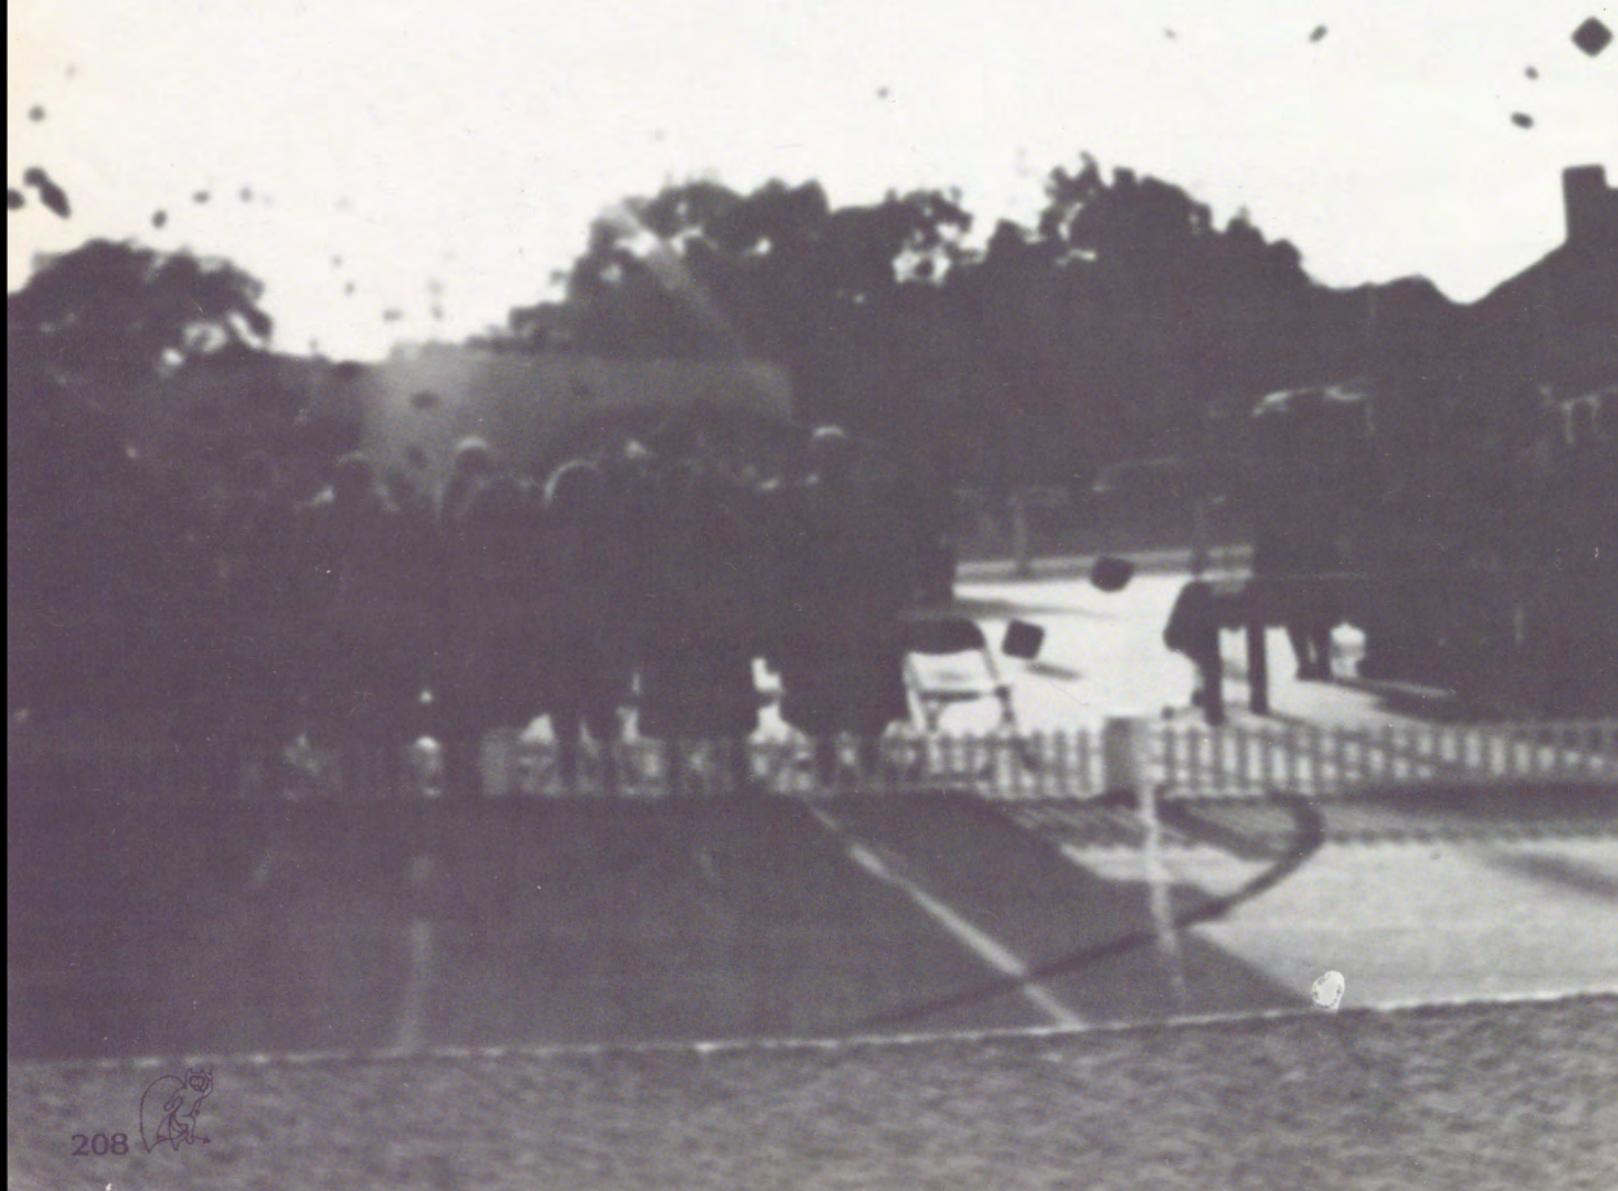

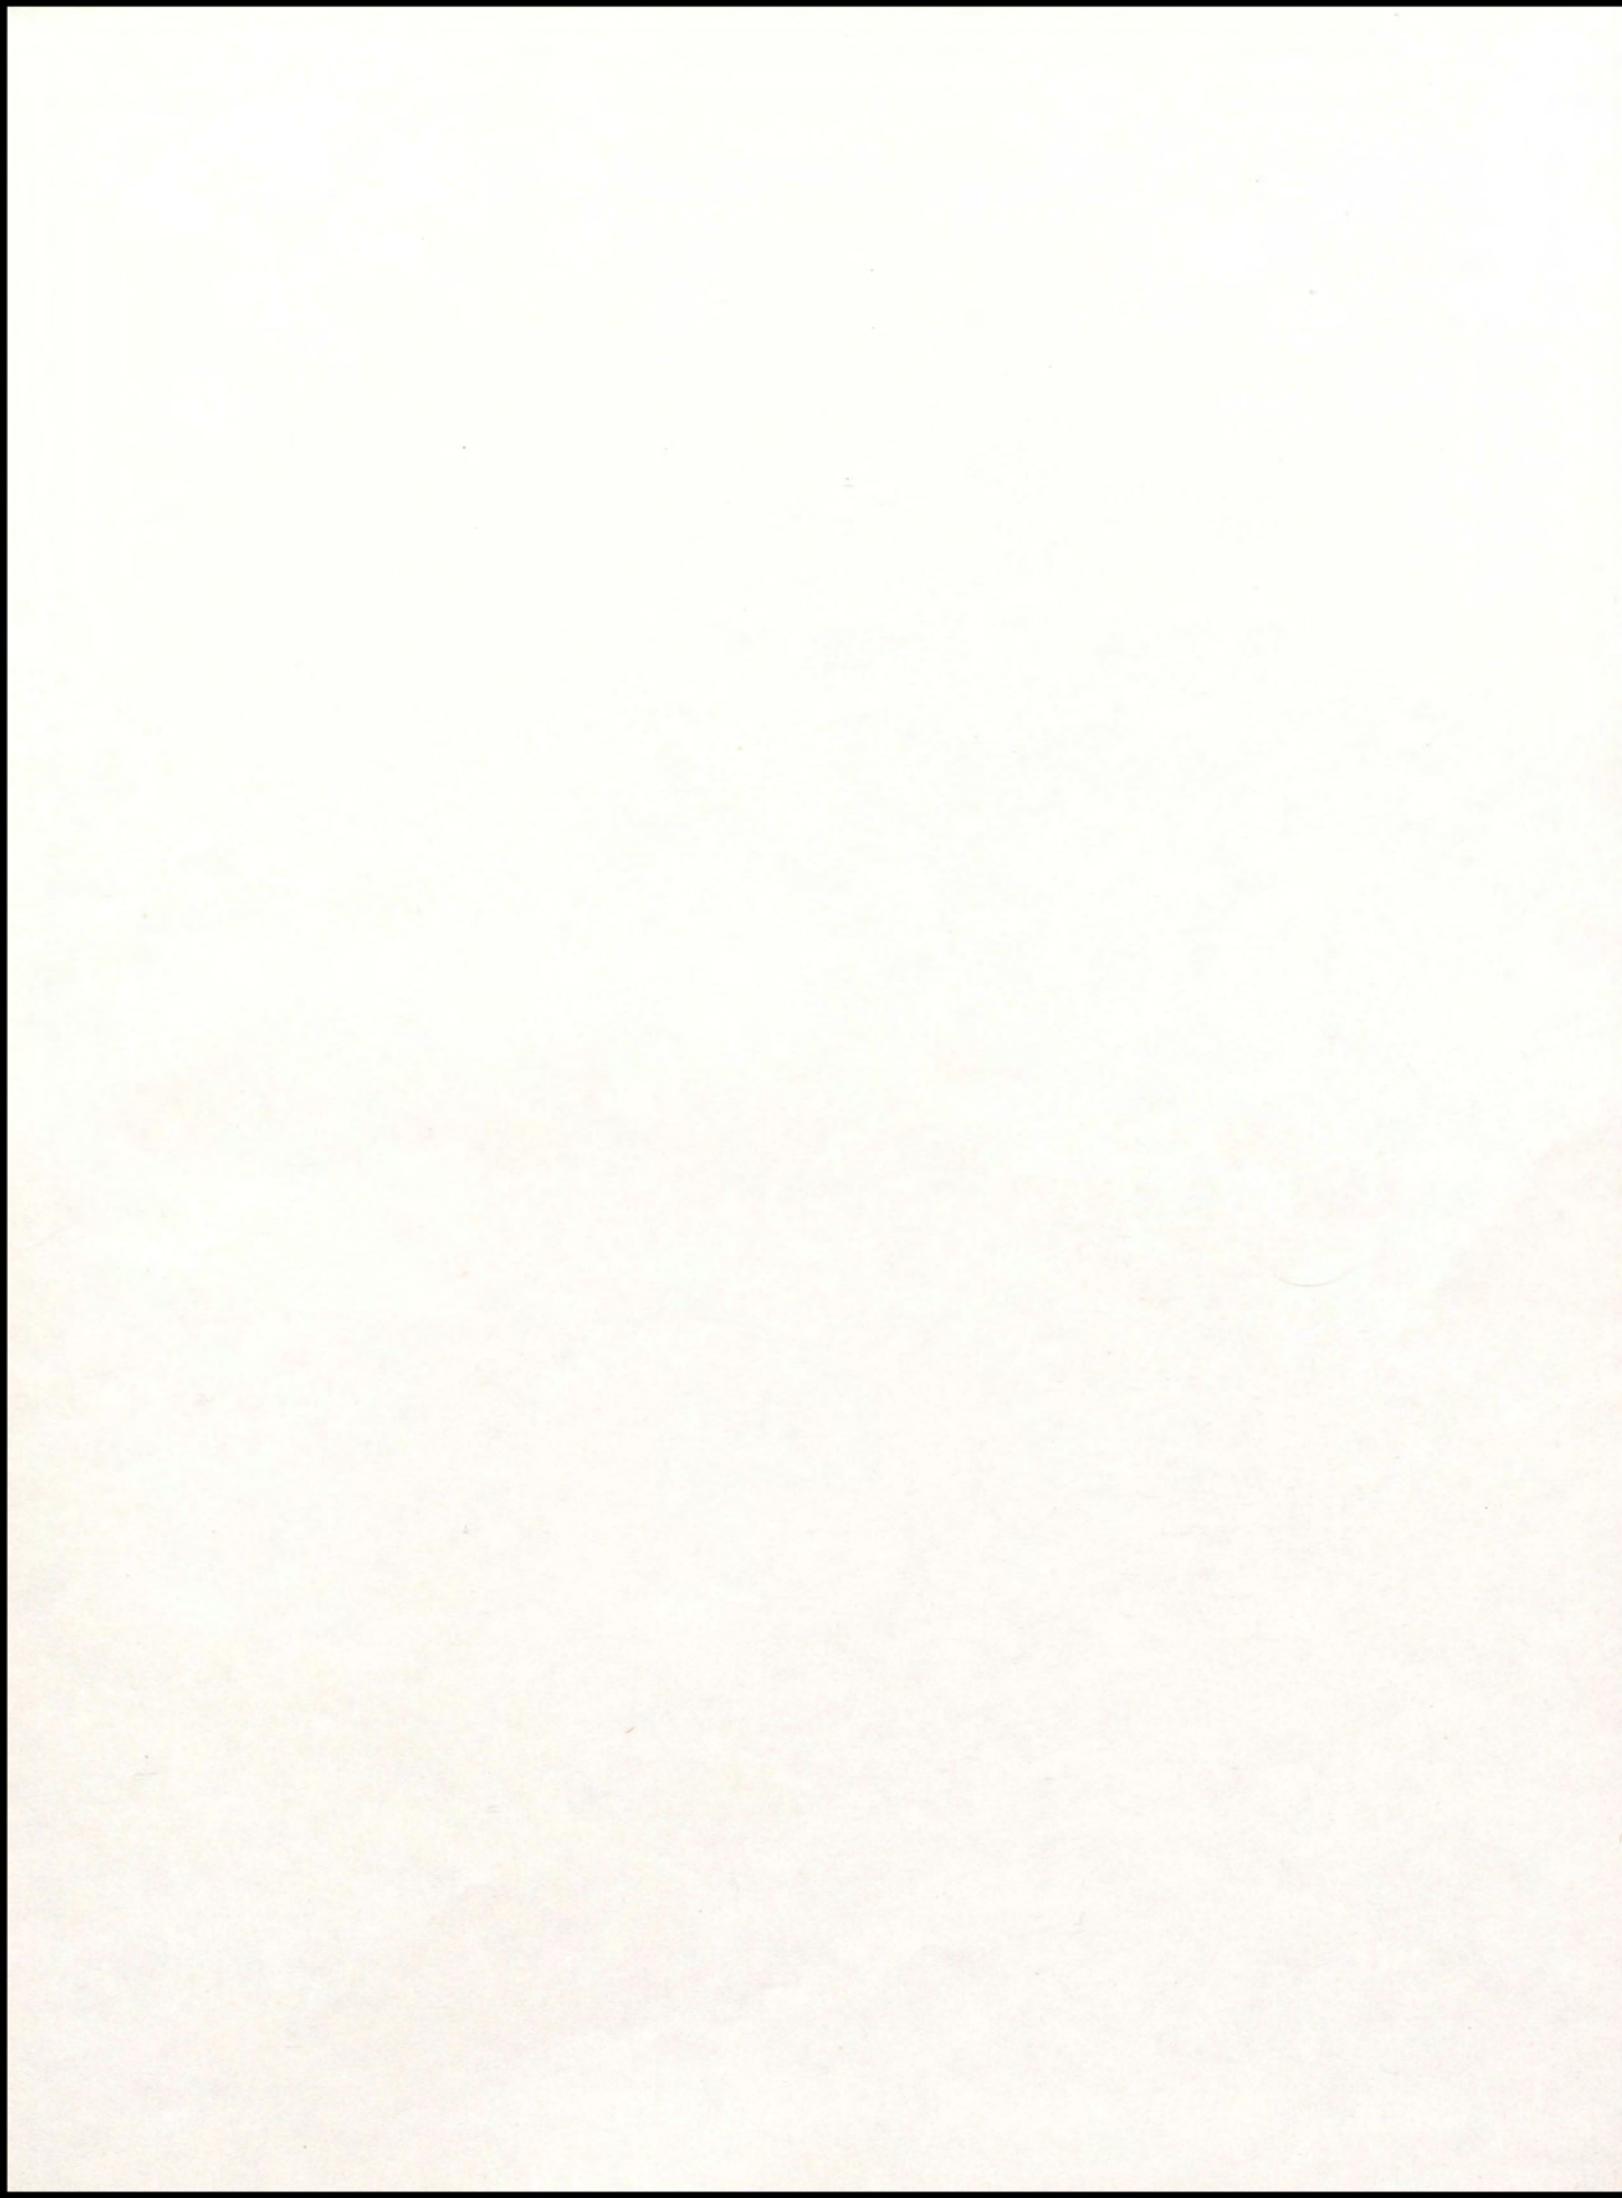

Let me get this for you, Susan.

Did you know . . . It was Julius Caesar who instituted the heads/tails coin-flipping practice. Caesar's own head appeared on one side of every Roman coin, and consequently it was a head-specifically that of Caesar-that in a coin flip determined the winner of a dispute or indicated an affirmative response from the gods. -Extraordinary Origins of Everyday Things

May the road rise to meet you,
May the wind be always at your back.
May the sun shine warm upon your face,
The rains fall soft upon your fields,
And until we meet again may God hold
You in the palm of His hand.
