AS THE Rugged 1849-ers eagerly set out in quest of gold, so we 1949-ers have earnestly pursued our quest for knowledge. Those hardy pioneers, with their courage and dreams, plodded on tirelessly in search of the gold which they believed could make their lives secure and happy. We, too, with our courage and dreams, have trod the path of the pioneer in search of the knowledge which we believe may help us to lead rich and useful lives.

SPIKE

by Nancy Lee Schreiner

I heard somebody holler, "Hi!"
"Hi, Spike!" I answered, passing by
Our skinny, chuckling janitor,
Who'd cleaned here eleven years or more.
Yesterday that's what we said.
Today they told me Spike was dead.

Some days I'd stop to talk awhile.
He'd lean against his mop and smile,
Relating sound philosophy
Or joke about his aunt's trick knee.
He'd laugh and shake his wise, white head.
Today they told me Spike was dead.

Perhaps Spike still may give advice,
May sweep the steps in Paradise.
And though we're sad he must depart,
He keeps his place in every heart
That he had once inspirited;
And yet they tell me Spike is dead!

ADMINISTRATION

With the backing of a progressive administration our schools have moved steadily forward. This year saw further development of plans for the expansion of our building program as well as completion of plans already under way. Additional class rooms were added to two of our grade school buildings, the Howe and Foster Schools, and their play areas have been completed. Besides plans for the present buildings, several acres of land were purchased for new schools and play grounds.

The high school stadium, of which we are so proud, with its modern lighting system, press box, and scoreboard, is further evidence of our administration's efforts to give us the finest and the best.

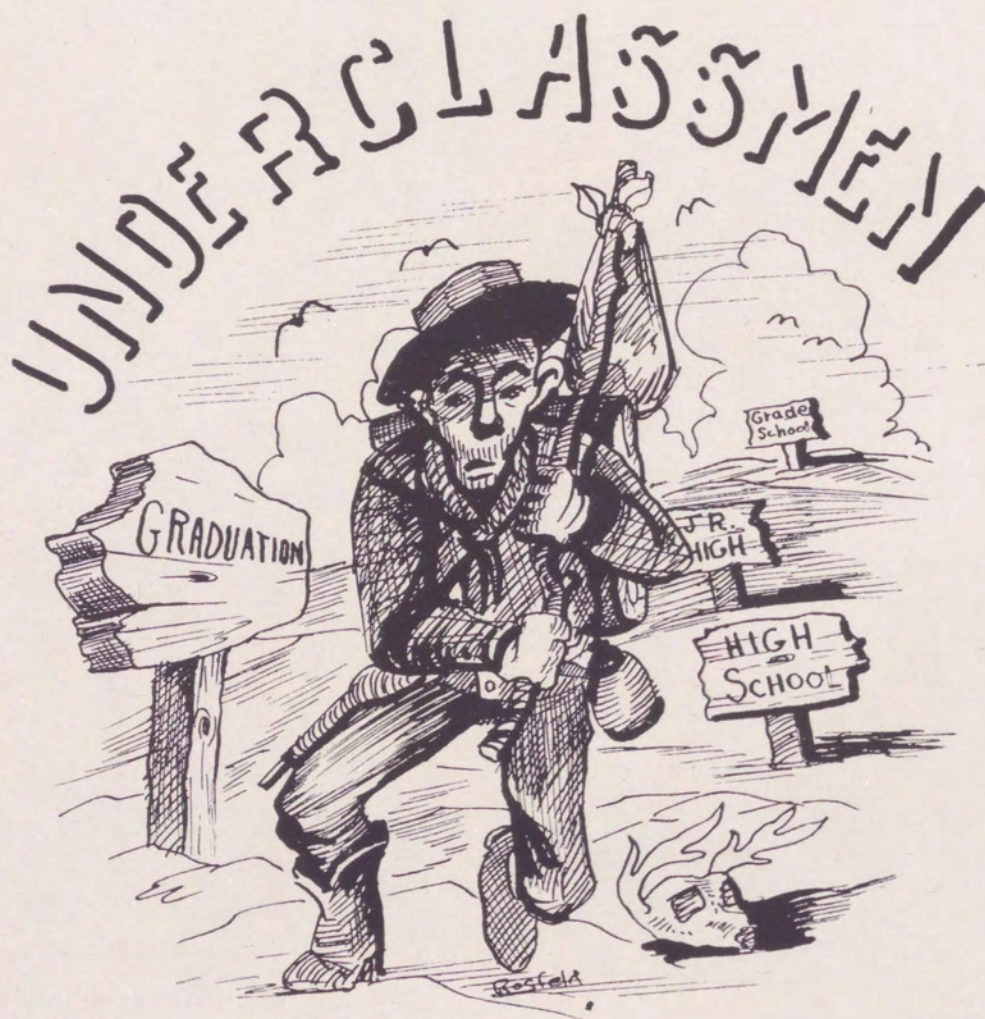

Let us hope that the educational advantages we enjoy will spur us on to greater achievement.

Secretaries: Mrs. Booth, Mrs. Slater, Miss Negley.

Advisory Council: (sitting) Miss Rightmire, Mr. Keifer, Miss Ion; (standing) Mr. Srp, Bernie Kelley, Margie Sloman, Howdie Cox, Mrs. Cargill.

Younguns Had a Gay Time

Class passing! That's when we see the boy friend, inquire about the history test, and drink those gallons of water.

Seeing double? These are the twins in our school: (on floor) Nancy and Louise Eisenbeis, (seated l.) Chuck and Tim McBride, (seated r.) Dave and Hona Bradley, (standing l.) Bud and Jim Glenn, (standing r.) Paul and Peter Bowell.

Bob staggers under a tremendous load of pencils while Joe runs around with a few sheets of paper.

Fancy silver . . . candlesticks . . . and even a tablecloth graced the table in the cafeteria when the boys celebrated Sadie Hawkins' Day on November 15.

Geez! Are they in a cage? Is this the zoo? Nope, these three members of the Decorating Squad are just trapped in their own web of streamers for the Junior-Senior Prom.

Cuttin' Capers on the Trail

Down in the team room the "B" squad get into their jackets and discuss strategy before coming onto the floor.

Ten yards! Five yards! He's over! The boys go wild as our Lebo Lads rack up another six points in an exciting football game.

The girls powder their shiny noses and pat that last lock of hair into place before rushing out to their (patiently??) waiting dates.

Hot dogs! Coke! Candy! The Ways and Means Squad really went to town during football games to fill the cash register for our activities program.

The brass section gives out with some terrific music that really "sends" us all at one of the games.

Totin' the Load...

Classes Rated First Claim

Journalists in the bud, learning to set up copy, find there's much more to a newspaper than meets the eye.

Packing food and presents for war-torn France was an errand of mercy conducted in the French classes under the guidance of Miss Zahniser.

Tracing the charts of death rates wasn't a very lively thing, but the girls in health class found that life is still moving along.

to Our Time and Talents

The school's top history students found no problems before them, but for the rest of the class American history sometimes had its battles.

Driving was a popular course which combined good practice and sound principals. With Mr. Reed at the dual controls things rarely (?) went wrong.

The locus board with all its many planes and pains couldn't stump these experts in Miss Smith's solid geometry class.

We Mined Six Loads per Day,

Although not a usual part of the Latin course, these puppeteers were training for their part in the Latin show at the Buhl Planetarium.

Miss Whinnie kept these future clerks studying hard learning to keep their columns straight and still arrive at the right answer.

Test tubes, Bunsen burners, and colorful materials were used to give a hot time in the chemistry class. Let's hope it wasn't too hot.

Five Days per Week (+ Overtime)

Keep right on pounding those keys. What! a mistake? Couldn't be. Well, don't get discouraged. Just start over again.

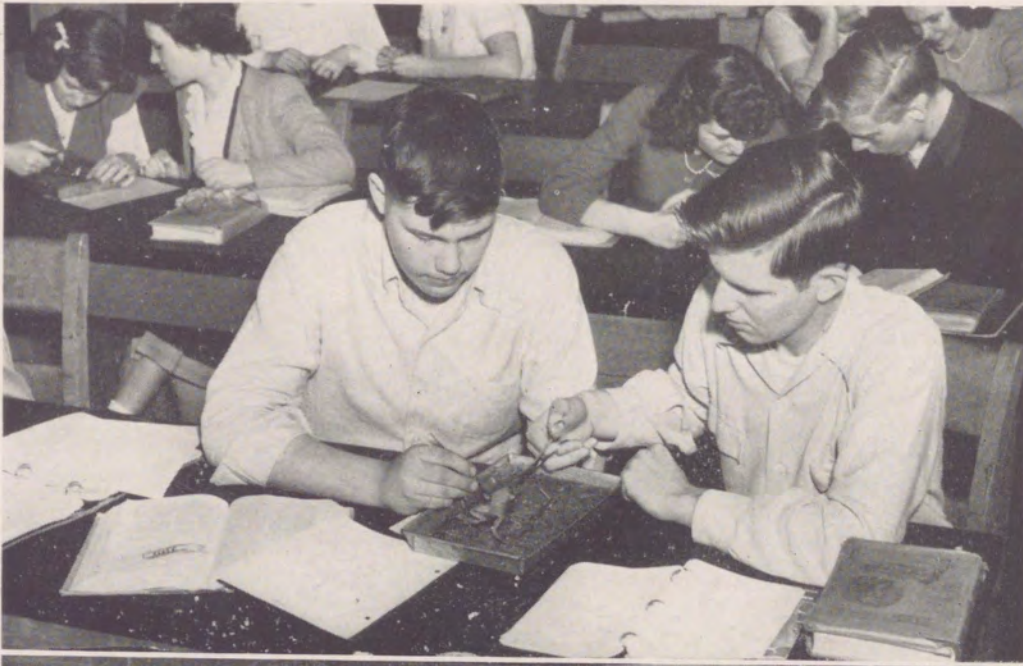

Hey look, fellas! Here are at least three girls who will know how to keep house. They are kept in practice by seeing that the apartment is spotless.

A sophomore English class gets library instruction from Miss Moore. Pay close attention! You'll need to use that Dewey Decimal System someday.

We Ventured Forth Together

First you skin it, then you dissect it. Atta way, kids, don't let that lovely biology specimen get out of hand.

Make way for the "Future Musicians of America." These five harmony students gather around the piano to practice scales.

"These lines and angles surely do get confusing at times," say some of Miss Rightmire's geometry students.

in Our Search for Knowledge

Shop was a useful subject for many boys. Watch that saw, fellas. It's much easier to cut your fingernails with a pair of scissors!

Some members of the economics class do research in the library in preparation for their reports. Don't work too hard, kids.

Here we have a panel discussion in Mr. Tallman's world history class. Subject: Do movies do more harm than good?

MRS. GERALDINE ADAMSON, B.S.

Mrs. Adamson likes new recipes, but here's one for us. Mix proportionately love of swimming, golf, and riding; sift into mixture sponsorship of cheerleading; add in large amounts the art of home-making; dilute with water of vacations on Lake Erie; beat in B.S. from Pennsylvania State College; stir well and flavor. Aid for enjoyment of "health".

MISS ANNE BAILEY, B.S.

The tall, beautiful blonde who looks very much like a student is Mt. Lebanon's new cadet . . . teaches algebra . . . graduated from Bucknell University . . . likes to do almost anything, but knitting, sewing, and bridge rate high with her . . . that sparkling new diamond she's wearing indicates wedding bells soon in the offing.

MISS MARGUERITE BECK, A.B., M.A.

Miss Beck teaches us our "auf wieder-sehns" and "gesundheits" . . . sponsors the devotional squad that works up those inspiring Wednesday morning broadcasts . . . chairman of the scholastic committee . . . has traveled extensively in Labrador, Germany, France, and Switzerland . . . a graduate of Wooster College, she received her M.A. from Middlebury College, Vermont.

MR. JOHN BECKERT, B.S., M.ED.

Our coach, with degrees from Slippery Rock and University of Pittsburgh, has proved that good football requires more than brawn . . . has had two undefeated teams and a total winning average of 75% . . . also excels as field coach with our outstanding track squads . . . says he doesn't even like himself during football season but has many ardent fans, including his wife and us.

MISS MARGARET BILLINGSLEY, B.S., M.ED.

A snapshot of a camera addict . . . exposure: in the gym, on the athletic field, in G.A.A. . . . timing: varied . . . development: it developed us . . . named: Miss "B" . . . history: B.S. and M. Ed. from University of Pittsburgh . . . enjoys traveling so much she took a semester's leave to "do" the South . . . outdoor sports and photography are her favorite hobbies.

MR. LAWRENCE BROMBERICK, B.S., M.ED.

Formula: LEBr . . . physical properties: blond; pleasant; solid; very low B.P.; never freezes; density—? . . . chemical properties: possesses great affinity for family, friends, and students . . . occurrence: wherever students need help . . . uses: useful tonic in acceleration of low spirits; character builder as well as chemistry teacher . . . degrees: B.S. Indiana State Teachers' College; M. Ed. Pennsylvania State College.

These Teachers Were Our Guides,

MR. MERLE BURROWS, B.S., M. LITT.

"Turn off those radio commercials!" says Mr. Burrows; "they're the present day curse" . . . his sociology and economics classes are frequently reminded of this . . . his garden and collection of old coins take up much of his spare time . . . he claims his degrees of B.S. and M. Litt. from Grove City and University of Pittsburgh respectively . . . sponsors our golf team.

MR. MERCER CLARK, B.S., M.ED.

Let's take a glance at part of "Speed's" alphabet . . . A-avocation of photography . . . B-baseball and basketball, which he coaches . . . C-caring for his family—wife, son six, and daughter two . . . D-dancing—a favorite pastime . . . E-education B.S.—Waynesburg and M.Ed.—University of Pittsburgh . . . F-G—Flower garden—another hobby . . . H-health—the subject he teaches.

MR. VICTOR DOAK, A.B., M.A.

Some say reading history makes you stale . . . lively Mr. Doak proves it doesn't . . . here's thumbnail proof . . . received A.B. from Geneva College, M.A. from University of Pittsburgh . . . enjoys reading, bridge, golf, tennis . . . tennis coach and chairman of W.P.I.A.L. Tennis Committee . . . assistant football coach . . . son Bill (now eleven years old) will be with us in a few years.

MRS. MARGARET CARGILL, A.B., M. LITT.

Let's get to the "point" and discuss Mrs. Cargill, the "key" woman in room 116 . . . amid the noise and bustle of the activities office she alone remains calm . . . heads the activities program in our school . . . faculty representative on the Executive Board . . . her own outside activities include movies, bowling, and bridge . . . A.B. and M. Litt. from University of Pittsburgh.

MR. JOHN DENBOW, B.S., M. ED.

A newcomer with us this year . . . teaches American history. . . graduated from Slippery Rock State Teachers' College . . . main interest is sports, especially basketball and tennis . . . spends his summers as counselor in a boys' camp . . . another name for his pet peeve is tardy pupils . . . was a first lieutenant in air corps during World War II.

MISS VIRGINIA ELLIOTT, A.B., M.A.

Attention writers! (she sponsors the Mounty), horseback riders! (she loves to ride), Godey Magazine admirers! (she collects them), housekeepers! (she sweeps the attic every vacation) . . . beware "Public Parasites" — those who walk through revolving doors and let others push (you're her pet peeve) . . . a versatile woman Miss Elliott . . . A.B. Wilson College, M.A. Columbia University.

MISS PAULINE FISH, B.S., M.A.

Girls, one way to a man's heart is through his stomach, so—

If you yearn to cook a delectable dish Get your instructions from Miss Fish. . . . Chairman of Pennsylvania Home Economics Association . . . collaborated with KDKA "School of the Air" . . . graduate of West Virginia Wesleyan and Columbia University.

MR. SHERRICK GILBERT, B.S., M.S.

Here's a champion . . . for those who like to putter around with carpentry (he loves to work with lumber), for those who like the study of nature (he teaches biology), for those who like basketball (that's his favorite sport), and last but not least, for those who play chess (he sponsors the victorious chess team) . . . B.S. and M.S. from University of Pittsburgh.

MISS RUTH GORDON, A.B., M.A.

Knock, knock, who's there?—it's not the porter, but our home visitor, Miss Gordon . . . her duties include checking truancy, visiting new families, ironing out family difficulties, issuing working permits, and teaching English . . . served as a WAVE officer during the war and is actively interested in the Reserves . . . attended Muskingum and Beaver Colleges and New York University.

MISS KATHERYN FROBESE, A.B., M. LITT.

This English teacher graduated from Allegheny College . . . her Beta Y-Teens think she's tops (to mention only a few of her admirers) . . . seen any of her snappy hats?—well, she makes some of them herself . . . enjoys symphonies, also flowers and tries never to miss a flower show . . . likes to spend her summers "far from the madding crowd."

MR. NORMAN GOODWIN, B.S., M. ED.

"This is a period of meditation, not visitation"—familiar words by Mr. Goodwin to the 12-5's between devotions and announcements . . . teaches algebra and geometry . . . sponsors intramural basketball . . . in Ruthfired Acres his wife manages the house, and son (age seven) manages both parents . . . received B.S. from Edinboro State Teachers' College, M. Ed. from University of Pittsburgh.

MR. JOHN GRIMES, B.S., M. ED.

The man behind the scenes is Mr. Grimes—behind the camera that takes the pictures of our football games and behind apparatus for the public address and score boards (squads which he sponsors) . . . likes to work in his wood-working shop . . . received his degrees of B.S. and M.ED. from University of Pittsburgh.

Leading Us "Ore" the Rough Spots

MISS DOROTHY GROVE, B.S., M. ED.

Meet the mistress of Midnight Maida (a little black cocker spaniel) . . . a graduate of Indiana State Teachers' College, she teaches commercial subjects . . . her Alpha Y-Teens have done some splendid projects under her able direction . . . likes to knit and (confidentially) she's an expert . . . by the way, she attended a Mt. Lebanon grade school.

MISS FERN HIGH, R.N., B.S.

Miss High says, "Let's have a look at your throat;" we say, "Let's have a look at Miss High" . . . first, our school nurse attended Jefferson Medical College and did graduate work at University of Pittsburgh . . . next, she worked in several hospitals and in the Bridgeville schools . . . finally, we see her favorite pastimes include bridge, skating, and golf.

MRS. FERNE HORNE, A.B., M.ED.

Have you had your "hor(n)oscope" read yet? If you're undecided about a college or high school course, step right up and have "Dr." Horne help you . . . well qualified with A.B. from Denison University and M. Ed. from University of Pittsburgh . . . because of her willing guidance to those graduating she has earned the title, "the seniors' best friend"

MISS ELLA ION, B.S., M.ED.

Definition of an ion: an atom with an electrical charge . . . it can truthfully be said Miss Ion furnishes the spark that keeps our program running smoothly . . . makes out the schedule of classes . . . files records on all students, past and present . . . is in charge of attendance . . . heads achievement, class rank, picture, and attendance squads . . . B.S. and M. Ed. University of Pittsburgh.

MR. JOSEPH KEIFER, B.S., M.A.

Exception to the rule "like charges repel and unlike attract" is our principal, Mr. Keifer . . . popular because he is so like us . . . stepping stones to his position have been principalships of all our schools . . . served three years in the navy . . . hunting and fishing are his diversions . . . B.S. California State Teachers' College and M.A. University of Pittsburgh.

DR. JUAL KENDALL, M.D.

Next time you feel low or run down don't take Dr. Carter's Little Liver Pills; see Dr. Kendall for a more pleasant treatment and furthermore for "free" . . . when she's off duty, cooking and gardening occupy her spare moments . . . has a son in Lincoln School . . . University of Pittsburgh, Pre-Med . . . Woman's Medical College, M. D.

MR. CHARLES O. LOHR, B.S., M.A.

Everyone stands in line to see Mr. Lohr—that is, if he wants to get tickets for any game or play . . . is in charge of the book room week days, heads for the "wide open spaces" of Ligonier Mountains on week-ends . . . teaches biology . . . likes sports . . . received B.S. from Washington and Jefferson College, M. A. from University of Pittsburgh.

MISS MARGERY MCCLURE, A.B., M.A.

"Go west, young man, go west," said Horace Greely; so does Miss McClure . . . has traveled extensively throughout the West, but her heart lies with the Rockies . . . loves travel—any form except horseback . . . between Latin and English classes she sponsors the Log (A Western Pine, that is) . . . A.B. from Oberlin . . . M.A. from University of Pittsburgh.

MR. JOHN MEHNER, B.S.

If you "follow the gleam" in Mr. Mehner's eye, you'll probably end up on a field trip, rain or shine (there's nothing this biology teacher likes better) . . . source of gleam's radiation, his hand-painted ties . . . his many diversions include reading and hiking . . . received his B.S. degree from Grove City College . . . now working on M.S. at University of Pittsburgh.

MR. WILLIAM MITCHELL, A.B., M. LITT.

"Buenos dias, clase"—a daily greeting to his Spanish classes . . . to secure the proper accent for this, he's made several trips to Mexico (of course, he also likes to travel) . . . sponsors the Hi-Y Gold Chapter . . . enjoys listening to the radio . . . his biggest headache is "teaching in vain," for which no cure has been found . . . A.B. and M.Litt. from University of Pittsburgh.

MISS MABEL MOORE, A.B., B.L.S.

Our earnest and friendly librarian received her degrees of A.B. and B.L.S. from Penn State and Columbia University respectively . . . if she had her way, it would be flowers every day, asters and delphiniums preferred . . . collects books on Pennsylvania . . . would like to room in her car all over Pennsylvania, her favorite state.

MISS EILEEN NESBITT, A.B.

A graduate of Waynesburg College . . . teaches our Latin students their "hic, haec, hoc's", but she also has a reputation as a fine math teacher . . . often envied for her curly bob . . . perfection to her is sunny (pardon us, snowy) California . . . since she loves traveling, she was quite happy as a Marine during World War II.

MISS ADA PATTERSON, A.B., M. LITT.

Miss Patterson not only teaches the intricacies of Latin to her students but promotes character education in our schools, a subject in which she is intensely interested . . . likes traveling and has visited much of our country . . . enjoys spending her evenings reading . . . keeps her students cheerful with her jolly sense of humor.

MR. MICHAEL MALONE

A true Englishman, imported last summer as an exchange teacher . . . during the war served as captain in the R.A.F. in Europe and the Middle East . . . week-ends find him sight-seeing in Louisville, Washington D.C., Niagara Falls—to mention a few . . . coaches soccer . . . teaching certificate from Sheffield University . . . will work for M.A. at University of Indiana next year.

MISS FLORENCE McLAUGHLIN, B.S., M.A.

The torch that lights the Lantern is Miss McLaughlin . . . teaches typing, English, and journalism . . . attended Carnegie Institute of Technology . . . particularly fond of antiques and gardening . . . interested in symphony concerts and book collecting . . . director of our schools' public relations . . . served Uncle Sam as a WAVE in World War II.

MR. NELSON MILLS, A.B., M. ED.

"The mills of the gods grind slowly, but they grind exceedingly fine" . . . thoroughness and perfection a vult for our superior plays, P.A. perfectances, and public speaking classes, all of which are Mr. Mills' responsibility . . . quite a gourmet in his taste for foods . . . has traveled throughout the United States and England . . . A.B. and M. Ed. from University of Pittsburgh.

MR. DONLEY MOLLENAUER, A.B., M. ED.

"We often fear
His thoughts aren't here
But in the clouds soaring."
Well, wherever they are, we'll wager they're on track or history . . . coaches our fine track and cross country teams . . . teaches American history . . . A.B. Washington and Jefferson, M.Ed. University of Pittsburgh.

MRS. GERALDINE MORGAN, B.S., M.A.

With a fanfare of trumpets (by the way, she plays one) enters our witty senior English teacher, Mrs. Morgan . . . supervises fire drills . . . working behind the scenes, so to speak, she coordinates all auditorium programs . . . is in charge of Senior Day . . . collects handkerchiefs and has one from almost every country . . . B.S. from Geneva, M.A. from University of Pittsburgh.

MISS MARIE NEUMARKER, A.B., M. ED.

"All aboard" or "ship ahoy" is a welcome sound to Miss Neumarker—provided, of course, she's the one that's going aboard . . . has traveled to Europe and most parts of U.S.A. . . . also enjoys classical music, reading, and gardening . . . teaches eleventh grade English . . . on school's guidance committee . . . degrees of A.B. and M. Ed. come from University of Pittsburgh.

MRS. FLOY PENN, B.S., M. ED.

A "bird's eye view" of a busy person we get only a glimpse of daily (if you take a quick look you can see her third period) . . . teaches reading in various Mt. Lebanon schools . . . a gardening amateur . . . dislikes bluffing . . . vacations in Cape Cod . . . B.S. from California State Teachers' College . . . M.Ed. from University of Pittsburgh . . . now working on her Ph.D. thesis.

MR. RAYMOND PETERS, B.S., M.ED.

Unlike Peter the Pumpkin Eater, Mr. Peters keeps neither his wife nor plans in a pumpkin shell . . . drew the plans for our wonderful stadium . . . his inventory of school equipment records everything from the number of torks in the cafeteria to the price of thread in 1945 . . . coaches rifle team . . . B.S. from California State Teachers' College, M.Ed. from University of Pittsburgh.

MISS NORMA POWELL, A.B., M. LITT.

Her degrees of A.B. and M.Litt. come from Wooster College and University of Pittsburgh . . . those beautiful sweaters she wears are a product of her chief hobby, knitting . . . head of the Girls' Service Squad . . . collects both classical and popular records, having a special collection of New Orleans jazz . . . papers without margins and tardy pupils are her pet peeves.

MR. REED RAINES, A.B., M.S.

Music reigns among Mr. Raines' hobbies . . . in the past, he played a mean saxophone in his own dance band . . . holding a lesser sway are photography and tennis . . . the real power behind the throne at home are his three monarchs, David, Don, and Pattie . . . sponsor of the Blue Hi-Y . . . received his A.B. and M.S. degrees from University of West Virginia.

MR. JOHN REED, B.S., M.LITT.

Give Mr. Reed a car and a driving student and "there's a driver's license in your future" . . . rode through California State Teachers' College in high gear to receive his B.S. . . . M.Litt. from University of Pittsburgh . . . puts the brakes on for athletics . . . knows his way around without a road map . . . favorite model is his little daughter, Mary Lou.

MISS MARTHA PICKENS, A.B., M.A.

If you haven't met Miss Pickens, you will soon . . . new student here?—if so, you were probably introduced to the school by a member of her hospitality squad . . . taking College Board Exams?—she has the necessary information . . . graduating?—she is in charge of commencement . . . A.B. and M.A. from University of Pittsburgh . . . when you meet her, you'll never forget her.

MR. PHILIP PRUTZMAN, B.S.

Our "man of distinction" is Mr. Prutzman . . . always ready on the down beat, he's sometimes sharp and always natural but never flat . . . plays many instruments besides directing our band and orchestra . . . major interest is his famous mustache . . . minor interest Live Alone and Like It . . . attended Mansfield State Teachers' College, Penn State, Ernest West Band School.

MR. JOHN RAMSEY, B.S., M.ED.

What's all the buzz about?—probably concerns Mr. Ramsey, who teaches wood and metal shop . . . works hard with our stage crew building scenery . . . his hobbies are wood and metal crafts . . . enjoys traveling . . . spent four years as a naval officer during the war . . . can boast of attending University of Pittsburgh and Carnegie Tech at the same time.

MISS ANNE RIGHTMIRE, A.B., M.A.

Here are excerpts from our winning "Good Neighbor Letter" . . . she was a nurse's aid at Montefiore Hospital for six years . . . spent one summer as a nurse in a mountaineer hospital in Frenchburg, Kentucky . . . teaches geometry . . . sponsors the traffic squad . . . received her A.B. from Allegheny and her M.A. from Columbia . . . I nominate, for our good neighbor, Miss Rightmire.

MISS RITA ROEGGE, A.B., M.A.

A true Mt. Lebanonite, she was bred here and has taught nowhere else, starting her teaching career as a cadet in our high school . . . teaches Spanish . . . has attended University of Pittsburgh, Middlebury College, and University of Mexico . . . has no particular hobbies but likes to do almost anything . . . has given generously of her time and talents to Red Cross work.

MR. DOUGLAS SHANER, A.B.

Graduated from Carnegie Tech School of Fine Arts . . . many of his art students have won awards each year in the Scholastic Contest . . . his twin dachshunds (weiner dogs to us) and a cat are his prize possessions . . . now devoting his spare time to the improvement of his newly acquired home . . . sponsors poster and printing squads.

MISS MAY SNEARY, B.P.S.M.

The lovely singing that floats down our halls is under Miss Sneary's direction . . . she also teaches harmony and music appreciation . . . Mount Union Conservatory of Music is her Alma Mater . . . collects table linens and hand-made quilts . . . two of her outside diversions are horseback riding and tennis . . . a master's touch at the organ.

MR. ROBERT RUTH, A.B., M.ED.

Here's someone that's on the beam, especially in his radio class . . . teaches physics and math, too . . . business manager of athletic teams . . . was to the boy he finds with a shirt belonging to our school! . . . keeps in tune at home by gardening and carpentry . . . for his own enjoyment he plays golf and tennis but ranks basketball highest.

MISS SARAH SMITH, A.B., M.ED.

At home Miss Smith constructs a special "solid" figure in the kitchen, using the locus chocolate pie, and the result is a delectable figure . . . bridge, reading, and swimming occupy her free moments . . . teaches solid geometry and trig . . . is in charge of senior class rings, pins, and announcements . . . A.B. from Wilson College, M.Ed. from University of Pittsburgh.

MRS. LYDE SOMMERFELD, A.B.

Gazing into my crystal ball, I see a lady who teaches tenth grade English . . . received A.B. from Grove City College . . . her numerous hobbies, in addition to her husband, include reading, music, and dancing. Second semester Mrs. Sommerfeld decided to devote all her attention to her husband and home . . . we've missed her, too, but our best wishes are with her—always!

MR. JOSEPH SRP, B.S., M.ED.

Hyp: Likes all sports, but baseball and basketball top the list . . . enjoys reading . . . attended Penn State, where he received his B. S. degree and University of Pittsburgh, where he took his M.Ed.

Con: Mr. Srp.

Plan: Sum of the parts equals the whole.

MISS RUTH STEPHENS, B.S., M.LITT.

California State Teachers' College is her Alma Mater . . . loves teaching the fine points of English literature to her twelfth graders . . . dreams of visiting England . . . is up to par in golfing and way above it when it comes to sponsoring the "Deltas" . . . perfection?—a cozy chair and a good book . . . received her M.Litt. degree from University of Pittsburgh.

MR. KIRK TALLMAN, A.B., M.ED.

Portrait—a tall man making a birdie on a golf course, leisurely reading a book, hoeing his garden, vacationing in the mountains of West Virginia, teaching world history, assisting in the coaching of football and basketball, and grumbling about school forms . . . that's Mr. Tallman . . . degrees from West Virginia University and University of Pittsburgh.

MISS MARY THORPE, A.B., M.ED.

Chats Spanish to her classes but after hours she is very likely to speak French . . . a graduate of Westminster College . . . quite talented in the domestic arts, she is an excellent seamstress and loves to cook . . . "music hath charms" for her, for she never misses an opportunity to listen to good music . . . attended University of Pittsburgh to earn her M.Ed. degree.

MR. EARL WHIPKEY, B.S., M.ED.

Week-ends find Mr. Whipkey "up in the air" (it's not because school is out) with his aviation unit of the Naval Reserves . . . he's also navigator of the Cedar Hi-Y . . . want to discover what an interesting conversationalist he is?—just ask how his young son, Doug, is doing . . . B.S. from Slippery Rock State Teachers' College and M.Ed. from University of Pittsburgh.

MR. ALBERT STANISH, B.S.

New with us this year from Central Catholic . . . likes our school, especially the co-ed system . . . teaches world history and assists in coaching football and track . . . received B.S. from Geneva and is now working on his master's at University of Pittsburgh . . . a brand new baby daughter to join son Albert, Jr. ushered in the New Year for the Stanish household.

MR. CARL STREAMS, A.B., M.A.

Wherever there are hunting and a stream abounding with fish you'll find Mr. Streams. To finance these hunting trips and family (wife and two children, John and Barbara) he teaches geometry and algebra . . . sponsors cafeteria squad . . . summer recreation director at Mt. Lebanon Park . . . found time to get A.B. from Grove City, M.A. from University of Michigan.

MISS ANNA THOMPSON, A.B., M.ED.

Westminster is her favorite college . . . good English grammar is the goal she inspires her students to strive for . . . paints dishes and makes neckties in her spare time . . . does her traveling now in a new, shiny Buick . . . is active in church work in her home town of Buena Vista . . . received her M.Ed. degree from University of Pittsburgh.

MISS THELMA WHINNIE, B.S., M.ED.

Traditional gift for the teacher is an apple, but chocolate covered cherries are guaranteed to please Miss Whinnie . . . among her favorite pastimes are driving her car and eating spaghetti, though fortunately not at the same time . . . teaches commercial subjects . . . has a B.S. degree from Indiana State Teachers' College and M.Ed. from University of Pittsburgh.

MISS HELEN ZAHNISER, A.B., M.A.

A graduate of Geneva College . . . parlez-vous francais?—if you don't. Miss Zahniser is the person to teach you how . . . her students strive for a Parisian accent like hers . . . during the summer if she isn't traveling, you may find her in the backyard gardening . . . she has visited most of Europe and for six summers conducted student tours there.

Caught in the act! Mr. Streams and Mr. Keifer go a-gunnin'.

Miss Sneary tries out the Hammond organ newly purchased for the Mellon auditorium.

In a beautiful blizzard Miss "B" takes off for points south. Can we blame her?

Teachers, too, sometimes had a snack between classes. Miss Patterson, Miss Thorpe, and Miss Fish seem to be enjoying that cup of tea.

What will teachers do next! Here we find Miss Frobese and Miss Beck refinishing furniture in one of the evening wood-working classes.

Welcome additions to our faculty second semester were Miss Holliday, former retired teacher who is substituting in the English department, and Mr. Davis and Miss Descaunets, new recruits for the physical education department.

CHILDREN OF THE MOON

Last fall the halls of Mt. Lebo rang with strange sounds of English and cockney accents. You've guessed it—the annual Activities Play was in rehearsal. After surviving long nights of practice and many hilarious incidents, the cast came through to give three splendid performances of a difficult play.

Assisting Mr. Mills in the directing field were Margaret Schietinger and Bettie Murphy. Student committee chairmen included stage manager, J. Blair; properties, C. McBride; business, T. Nourie; costumes, A. Rebholz; make-up, S. MacKinnis; publicity, S. Miller; ushers, F. Ryan.

Talent in Spotlight Fantasies

HEAVEN CAN WAIT

"Spirits!" someone howled as a saxophone floated down the corridor. Spirits? Well, maybe. But it was more likely to be one of the characters for the class play just practicing in his spare time. Although handicapped by having to practice almost everywhere but on a stage for two weeks, our '49-ers survived and really made both Joe and Mr. Jordan come to life.

CAST

Harpster; (Second Crowd Group) T. White, D. Minihan, C. McBride, V. Corbett, M. Hill, S. Maloney, E. Hartzell, N. McGhee.

Assisting Mr. Mills were student directors, J. Corcoran and C. Gallagher, and also the following committee chairmen: ushers, M. DeStein; properties, C. McBride; publicity, V. Herrmann; business, T. Nourie.

(LOWER LEFT) In vain Joe tries to prove to Max by his boxing prowess that he is really himself, not Mr. Farnsworth while the invisible Mr. Jordan stands by. (T. to B.) Mr. Jordan having given his okay to the check, Max nervously waits as Tony gives him the money with which to promote the fight. Members of both casts watch anxiously as their student directors pull straws to decide what night each cast performs. Juha and Tony receive quite a shock as Joe, in Mr. Farnsworth's old body, comes down to see Bette.

Self Government

EXECUTIVE BOARD

Chief instrument of student government is the Executive Board. Made up of the presidents of all home rooms and an additional representative from each senior room, this group discusses and takes action on many school problems.

This year the Board gave special attention to the subjects of sportsmanship and honesty. Active discussion and participation in handling such problems give students a share of responsibility for the smooth running of their school.

STUDENT COURT

Tuesday after school means many things to many people, but to a certain few, Tuesday means they must report to the Student Court. This judiciary branch of our student government handles all out-of-order reports. Here the recipient of an out-of-order has a chance to plead his case. After weighing all evidence, the court decides the necessary punishment, if any.

Composed of representatives from each grade, the Court is another device through which our students govern themselves.

Scholarship, Service, Character Are Keys

It was a proud moment as deserving students came forward to accept their awards at the Activities Assembly.

ACTIVITIES KEY

Some people count sheep to make them go to sleep. I don't! I count activities points.

You see, the requirements sounded easy when I was a sophomore. From every activity I'd enter, I'd receive points; when I finally accumulated ninety, I'd have my key. I could receive it from grade eleven A through twelve A. Eagerly I set out on my quest. I stoved my finger in G.A.A., acquired dishpan hands from washing the blackboards, spent precious minutes of activities period in a squad meeting, got hoarse practicing for the spring musical, struggled to get on the honor roll, and now a senior, I tediously count my points. Eighty-seven, eighty-eight, eighty-nine. One short! But I must have ninety! You say there's one last resort? All right!

Please, please, may I wash your boards?

ROW 3: Cox, Stroble, Lund, Wissinger, Beasley, Krivobok, Hickman, Hewitt, Koenig, Rea, Colker, Shave, Walker.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Did you get that letter from Mt. Lebanon High School? No, not a home notice, but the announcement of your election to the National Honor Society. Only fifteen percent of the upper third of the senior class do. Brains aren't everything, but neither are character and service without brains. To be a member of National Honor Society, a student must combine scholarship, service, leadership, and character.

QUILL AND SCROLL

QUILL AND SCROLL

With my quill I record upon this scroll that outstanding literary work on the Log, the Mounty, or the Lantern is the requisite for membership in the international literary society, Quill and Scroll.

These girls proved that it could be done. Yes, Joan Thorsteinson, Donna Gray, Nancy Schreiner, and Anne Harpster had earned keys and guards at the end of their 12 B semester.

These Students Sparkled Brightest

(LEFT) Science genius is our own Charles Plantz, who won top honors and a trip to Washington in the Westinghouse Science Talent Search. For two successive years one of our science students has placed among the highest forty in the nation in this contest.

At the end of the fall semester these students came forging through to make the highest honor roll. FRONT: Stewart, Ryman, Mihm, B. Miller, L. Miller. ROW 2: Ward, Schreiner, Garson, Lee, Kurtz, Divine. ROW 3: Foley, McConnell, Williams, Daley, Storey, Erickson.

Jack Hewitt and Bob Laufer are two of our most outstanding science students. Jack received an honorary medal from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, while Bob received the Bausch and Lomb Honorary Science Award. We are proud to add that Bob also placed in the top two hundred contestants in the Westinghouse Science Talent Search.

on the Various Trails of Learning

(RIGHT) Here's a history scholar deluxe! In the Hearst American History Contest Bob Laufer placed third in Western Pennsylvania and received honorable mention in the nation, the only one from this district to receive honorable mention.

(BELOW) Right proud are these budding authors as they prepare to submit their manuscripts in the Scholastic Writing Contest. Sitting: Klepfer, Schreiner, Book, Joseph. Standing: Denman, Neal, Krivobok, Miller, Rimer, Hurrell. Incidentally our contestants captured fourteen places in the contest. Pretty nice going, eh what?

Owen Daley and Jean McKay, co-editors of the Mounty, discuss their forthcoming issue with Joan Thorsteinson, editor-in-chief of the '49 Log.

Bill Berlin, Art Rosfeld, and Tom Kelly in their weekly broadcasts gave us some lively news accounts of the sports world at Lebo Gap.

LANTERN EDITORS
Meyers, Hulse, Rosfeld, Robb.

LANTERN

The daily evening bustle of activity in Miss McLaughlin's room was always the notice of an approaching day when we would hear, "The LANTERN shines tonight," and we'd rush to our homerooms after school for a copy. The journalistic efforts of our talented classmates were always welcomed and enjoyed, from featured news scoops and editorials, through the sports and record columns, to the "Devilette."

MOUNTY

Every Friday after school MOUNTY staff held its regular meeting to discuss the latest diggings in the short story, poetry, and essay mines. These busy writers with their production and business staffs were quite used to working overtime (until 6 p.m. and once or twice on Saturday mornings), but no one complained or remembered the temperamental mimeograph machine on "MOUNTY DAY," when the literary magazine actually descended upon the school.

LOG

Since last May, when the theme was first decided upon, up until the very moment you received this volume, the LOG staff has been working to give you a yearbook worth its weight in gold. As ideas were being sought for and discovered, Lem and Clem were born, those jolly characters who go rillicking through these pages with such abandon. While eager salesmen went a-gunnin' for subscriptions, while photographers scouted for pictures, while artists sketched lay-outs and mounted glossies, while writers wrote and rewrote, and while the business manager tried to balance the budget, the staff endeavored to record for you the golden memories of a record year. The end result you now hold in your hand—your own Forty-niner.

MUSIC

Will we ever forget the wonderful feeling that came over us when the band, using lights for the first time, formed an illuminated "M" while we sang the "Alma Mater"? Under the direction of Mr. Prutzman the band was, without a doubt, better than ever. It certainly pep- ped up the fans at half-time with "Alexander's Ragtime Band" and the fancy stepping of the snappy majorettes.

In the choral activities the Triple Trio and the Boys' Quartet held sway. Both groups made a fine name for themselves by entertaining on various occasions.

At Christmas the chorus held its annual presentation of the The Messiah. It was a memorable evening as many alumni who had been former chorus members joined in singing Handel's inspiring composition.

Kept Many of the Gang in Tune

In March the band and the orchestra, along with instrumental groups of the other schools, gave an "All School Concert." Something new this year was a saxophone quintet and a trumpet trio. The two big numbers of the concert were "Marche Slave" and the "Overture from the Barber of Seville." It was a real thrill for our musicians to have Robert A. Arthur, bandmaster of the University of Pittsburgh, lead one of the numbers.

As a grand finale in May, the chorus under Miss Sneary's direction presented "Naughty Marietta." It was a tremendous show, with gay costumes, lively dances, and wonderful tunes, which included the always remembered, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life."

This brought the musical year to a close. Of course, there had been hard work, but there was that great satisfaction of a job well done.

Hi-Y-Teens at

Y-TEENS

One of the most popular activities among the girls is the Y-Teens. Approximately three hundred girls participated in its three chapters, the Beta, Delta, and Alpha.

Remember all the good food and fun at the "Covered Dish Dinner"? No one could forget the impressive candlelight Recognition Service, when everyone was dressed up and serious for once. Then on the less serious side were those square dances, when the gals all wore jeans and danced themselves breathless. As one of their social service projects, members spent many evenings working for the Red Cross. They had their share in sports, too, with the formation of basketball teams, which did quite well in their competition with Y-Teen clubs in other schools.

For the most part all the regular meetings carried through the theme of know yourself, know others, know your career, and help those with fewer opportunities.

Work and Play

HI-Y

Promoting a variety of activities, our Hi-Y organizations enjoyed a profitable and charitable year. Divided into three chapters, each sponsored by a different teacher, the boys participated in everything from gathering money to playing basketball.

This year the Gold or senior branch, with Mr. Mitchell as faculty adviser, in addition to minor activities, sent their representatives to conferences, acted in downtown "Y" gatherings, and raised money for several worthy causes. They also played in the sectional Hi-Y league, where the Geeks were victorious in the final playoff over the Forty-niners.

The Cedar Chapter, the junior group sponsored by Mr. Whipkey, concerned itself with a greater emphasis on safety; while the tenth grade group, the Blue, led by Mr. Raines, assisted Mrs. Cargili with the Red Feather Drive and gathered contributions for the Good Will.

Whether it was a football game, a musicale, or a play, these boys were always on hand to take tickets or hand out programs.

Harriers Again Show Class and Speed

CROSS COUNTRY

Once again, Mt. Lebo's harriers, under the successful tutoring of Coach Mollenauer, raced home with many outstanding honors. Paced by the speedster, Bernie Luterancik, who came in first consistently, the Blue and Gold snatched another successful season. Although championship material was more scant than in previous years, the locals still stayed close to the top of the heap. Perhaps the brightest spot in the whole campaign was the thrilling run at the State Championship Meet, where the Mounties hurdled into second place, just one point from the coveted title. This was really an accomplishment since three other meets had been lost. Skill, speed, and spirit seem to go together when the boys team up to run for Mt. Lebo.

Our Goal-Minded '49ers...

FOOTBALL

Doing a complete turn-about from last season, our Blue and Gold gridders bowled over six of eight formidable opponents. Displaying class from the first whistle until the last gun, each victory was a team victory. With the hard-charging line opening gaping holes for such speedy backs as Cox, Dee, Metzger, Pischke, and Morian, it is easily understood how the locals trounced weak Bethel, 38-13, in the night lid-lifter at home. The next two weeks found city schools as visitors, who were no match for our boys, as they stopped both Carrick and South Hills.

Possibly the most pulse-pounding fracas of the campaign was the Penn thriller, in which the Leboites overcame a poor first half showing to down the first "AA" rival. Bobby Dee ripped off two long runs to set up both scores, which were deciding factors. The Indians threatened in the final minutes but the "Devils" held firm. The winless wonders of Washington provided little opposition the next week; and after scoring on the opening play of the game, the Mounties coasted to a 26-6 win.

lost many scoring opportunities and also the game to undefeated Wilkinsburg, 13-0. Arm-chair quarterbacks predicted bad things for the boys as they met undefeated, untied, and unscored on New Castle. It was close all the way, but the locals bowed 26-7, alarming the powerhouse by scoring. The successful season faded with an easy 27-0 victory over Munhall. The same night the fans wildly cheered twenty-five seniors playing their last game under the Blue and Gold.

RIFLE

Mr. Peters' sharpshooting gunners blasted out a record of seven wins in fourteen attempts to keep pace with the best in W.P.I.A.L. rifle. Accurate Bob Carpenter and Bill Pentecost, both juniors, consistently loaded the record books with fine scores. Munhall proved to be the toughest opposition, since they shot a perfect 500 in both tilts against the home boys. The most unusual battle of the year occurred in the Aspinwall match. Instead of the five top scores being posted, because of a double tie, the seven top marks counted.

BASKETBALL

Don't be too surprised if basketball mentor, "Speed" Clark, requests that W.P.I.A.L. basketball games be played three quarters instead of four. That's no joke, son! In the section five tilts practically every contest was decided in the last few minutes when the boys just seemed to lose their aim. These close games, however, made it a very attractive season for the fans, who were on their feet more than in the stands; but for the record book, the final result was generally bad. Perhaps the best example of this case of the

"dropsy" was the first Dormont game on our home floor. The local dribblers led the visitors by two points and attempted to freeze the ball for the last few minutes. The Bulldogs, however, got the ball, tried one fantastic shot . . . and made it. After three wild minutes of overtime, the Dormont boys came out on top, 33-29. Fortunately history didn't repeat itself, and the Lebo Lads snatched an equally thrilling victory on the Dormont floor, 34-32.

roi, where the Mounties toted off a 40-35 win, prospects looked bright for a grand season, but intermittent success in exhibition frays led up to the sad story of the section chase, which Brentwood won. Trinity was the only squad the Devils beat twice. The overall record of nine wins in twenty-one outings was aided very much along by the brilliant play of Howdie Cox, voted most valuable. Bob Buck, who was high-scorer, Al McGhee, Bobby Dee, Pete Mervosh, and John Billingsley also were senior stand-outs. Most fans considered the Bethel battle, which the Blue and Gold won 50-41, to be the best game of the season and the overtime game lost to Dormont, the most exciting.

The all sophomore "B" squad under the tutoring of Mr. Tallman copped thirteen wins in twenty-one starts. Bob Witt was almost consistently top point maker; while Dick Bradway, Jack Smith, Bob Billingsley, and Jack Keegan also looked like varsity material for the coming two years.

TRACK 1948

Keeping pace with its past record, Mt. Lebanon again had one of the most powerful track teams in its history. Mr. Mollenauer's speedy proteges snatched four coveted district titles, the Indoor Championship at South Park's Schoonmaker Hall, the Independent Districts' Meet, the Washington Invitational Meet, and the W.P.I.A.L. Relays. With great things expected of them, the local sprinters breezed by all dual and triangular foes in easy fashion, meeting practically every formidable squad in Western Pennsylvania. However, the W.P.I.A.L. Championship Meet was a different and sad story. Plagued with unexpected injuries, the squad literally fell apart and only managed to tie Clairton for second place. Before the meet, Mt. Lebo was a heavy favorite to win the crown, but the loss of valuable Barry and Farquhar and the morale of some of the other boys caused the team to bow in favor of Wilkinsburg.

The well-balanced squad were as classy as individuals as they were a team, somewhat a rarity, in that a big star usually outshines a constellation. Some of the top boys were:

Ed Smith, a brilliant half-miler. In the State Championship Meet Ed darted in first to give the Blue and Gold its fourth such honor.

Bob Eby, another half-mile wizard, who tied for third place in the W.P.I.A.L. Championship.

Bernie Luterancik, always a top contender in the mile, who stayed close to the top in every meet.

Jad Doubleday, who started out with a bang, but injuries kept him out of the limelight. His specialty was the sprint.

Bob Farquhar and Jack Barry, who excelled in the hurdles.

Bob Schuette, a "high jumping" pole vaulter, who tied for fifth place in the State Championship pole vault event.

Formidable Foes

Two other boys, Don Morian and Don Minihan, lifted the ban on records to add more laurels to the trophy case. Two old school records were broken. Morian heaved the shotput a terrific 48 feet, 5 inches; while Minihan leaped 5 feet, 10 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches in the high jump. Ed Smith, Don Morian, and Bob Schuette represented the Blue Devils at State, all placing. Smith took first spot in the half-mile, Morian grabbed fourth place in the shotput, and Schuette "vaulted" into a tie for fifth place.

The 1948 squad certainly set a pace that will be difficult to equal; indeed they have achieved a goal which future teams may well strive to attain.

BASEBALL 1948

Behind the usually steady hurling of southpaw Dave Lucas, the local sluggers belted a .555 average, winning five contests while dropping four. Rough competition from each team in the section found the Mounties' hurlers, Lucas, Baer, Markson, and Yauch, yielding thirty-four runs in eight league frays.

The two wildest games of the season proved to be the McKeesport tilt at home and the second Munhall game. A parade of Blue and Gold pitchers faced the McKeesport nine, and each was tagged freely for base hits. It was strictly "no contest" and the visitors pounded out a 13-3 win. At Munhall Mt. Lebo socked one scratch hit but scored five runs on frequent walks by the opposing hurler's poor control. The home boys finally took a 9-5 decision.

"Slugger of the Year" honors can't be heaped on any particular player because time after time each of the local boys "came through" in the clinch. This year the fielding was exceptionally good for a high school squad. Errors weren't so frequent as in previous seasons. Of the eighteen players on the roster, eleven were underclassmen, which gives the fans hopes of future diamond success.

G.A.A. Council Mapped Out a Schedule

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Who said the fellows have a monopoly on sports? No G.A.A. member will agree to that, for this was a year filled to the brim with fun. For a bit of relaxation after a hard day of classes there was nothing better than a session at G.A.A.

The season began rolling with the tennis tournament. Tennis is the game where the player holds a racquet in one hand, closes her eyes, and swings with all her might. At least that's what some people think. The juniors, Nancy Maloy and Martha Barron, who defeated all contenders including the seniors (imagine!), really had that fatal swing.

As the weather grew colder and classes got tougher, tennis was replaced by deck tennis. Indeed, there was many a furious battle before Barbara Church's team came out on top.

The next major sport was that one and only basketball, best loved of them all. Almost every girl signed up for this sport but only one team could win, and that crown was taken over by Joan Arentzen and her fast-steppin' lassies. The best from each grade formed three all-star teams, which put up a bitter contest until victory was finally snagged by the seniors.

While basketball was going full swing, bowling had its share of attention, too. After many tries the highest averages were held by Sue Maloney for the seniors, Rosie Doyle for the juniors, and Joan Furman for the sophomores.

In March the council held its annual G.A.A. Dessert. Remember? That was the night we laughed until we hurt! After a delectable dessert we had some hilarious entertainment by the council and others. Although the Log photographer was rather embarrassed at our antics, we thought his red face very becoming.

Next on the agenda was volley ball, an all-time favorite. This is the game that always causes those red knuckles and dish pan hands. No, we assure our friends we're no charwomen in a downtown office nor do we wash dishes in a restaurant. We've just been learning to serve.

Food and fun were featured at the annual G.A.A. Dessert.

Packed Full of Good Times for All

In spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love, but for G.A.A. members, it's different. They turned to mushball and those gals could swing a wicket bat.

This brought a really swell year to a close. It was a wonderful job done by Miss Descaunets, who took over while Miss "B" was on a semester's leave of absence. Just getting to know four hundred girls was no easy assignment, not to mention numerous other duties. Our thanks to Miss "D" and the council for a grand year.

SEPTEMBER

Way back in September '48, us old timers of the class of '49 come ter school to start our last year in Mt. Lebo High. We wuz kinda glad to get back—oh! we wurn't no dummies—we knowed there wuz work ahead, but we also knowed there wuz plenty a' fun.

OCTOBER

We sure enough had a barrel a fun at them thar football games. It wuz plenty cold but we didn't mind 'cause we had a great team and the games wuz mighty excitin'! (Them thar snappy majorettes 'n cheerleaders didn't hurt none either.)

NOVEMBER

We wuz mighty glad to git all fixed up in our fancy duds and drive off in our slick wagons to the Junior-Senior Prom. The boys wuz broke busted next mornin' and the gals had mighty sore feet, but we all agreed that it sure wuz worth it.

DECEMBER

Shucks, we had a dandy time at Christmas. The chorus sung purty songs in the halls, there wuz mistletoe everywhere, we put on the Messiah, there wuz mistletoe everywhere, lots of us exchanged presents, an' there wuz mistletoe everywhere. Um-m-m!

JANUARY

Come January, come all them tests. Course we'uns of the class of '49, we wuz purty used to 'em 'cause we had took 'em many times before. Us old timers knowed how to study and study we did. Why shucks, some of us even passed that thar English test.

an Ol' Timer

FEBRUARY

12 A's—boy! we wuz beginnin' to feel older an' older. We had our Activities Assembly and a gosh darn lot of us got awards an' sech. Made us feel purty important. It was the first time that us guys realized how close we wuz comin' to grad-ja-ashun.

MARCH

What a month! We wuz hafin' to shell out for anything an' everything. We had to order cards with our names all fancy like on 'em and invitashuns for our commencement. Golly! but they wuz purty. Kinda made us feel a bit nigh-fa-lootin'.

APRIL

We put on the greatest darn show on earth. It was the funniest dog-gone presentation to ever hit Lebo Gap. Us old timers sure wuz mighty proud of them thar classmates of our'n who put on that thar Broadway per-duckshun. We liked it fine, yes-sir-e-e!

MAY

This here wuz it! We won't fergit Senior Day 'cause we had more fun in them thar twenty-four hours than we'd ever had. That day the world wuz our'n. We wuz the bosses and how we loved it! It weren't long now—soon we wuz gonna grad-ja-ate.

JUNE

After three years of workin' and havin' fun we wuz through. The gals cried a bit, and even us old timers choked up. We left the skool in the hands of the underclassmen, said "adios" to our friends, and set out to blaze our own trails.
